AFL CHIEF ATTACKS NATIONAL LABOR BOARD; LAUNCHES DRIVE

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 5.—(UP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said today that he would lead the federation's membership in a campaign to drive the National Labor Relations Board "from power."

Casting the board in a speech, fender and had "gone so far as to the 53rd annual convention of the Massachusetts Federation of Labor, Green said:

"It will be my duty to mobilize the 5,000,000 workers in the A. F. of L. to drive that board from power. We want the board to be fair. We don't want it to drive out any units of the A. F. of L."

He accused the NLRB of "using the CIO movement to foster secession in the labor movement."

"The administration of the Wagner act is terrifically awful," he went on. "The NLRB has sunk to a new low level and is now a pro-CIO agency."

Green said that Edwin S. Smith of Framingham, Mass., a member of the NLRB, was the "chief of

Charges Husband Threatened Her

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Mrs. Vivian Howard, niece of the late E. J. "Lucky" Baldwin, multi-millionaire sportsman, told the district attorney's office today that her divorced husband, Edward H. Howard, had threatened to take away her children, whose custody was granted to Mrs. Howard in a divorce agreement approved in 1927.

One of Mrs. Howard's children is Patrick Marquis Howard, 14, who is capable of reading although blindfolded so that any possibility of his seeing through the blindfold is precluded.

Deputy District Attorney Howard Hinshaw ordered Howard to appear Tuesday to answer his wife's charges.

Nippon Commits Hara Kari

TOKYO, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Maj. Gen. Yasuyuki Nishiyama, 55, retired, a hero of the Russo-Japanese war of 1905, committed Hara kari today because he was unwilling to accept his pension, while his country was going through a period of emergency.

In accordance with the rite of Hara kari, or disemboweling with a sword, Gen. Nishiyama dressed ceremoniously, sat before his family shrine, and killed himself. He left a will explaining his motive.

Rebels Attack Palestine

JERUSALEM, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Armed rebel bands made repeated attacks in scattered sections of Palestine today. One band stabbed and disarmed an Arab constable south of Jerusalem. A Jewish driver of a government lorry was killed from ambush on the Haifa-Tel Aviv highway.

Two more Jewish laborers died from injuries suffered yesterday when a land mine exploded under a bus.

Cattlemen Face Theft Charges

MARIPOSA, Cal., Aug. 5.—(UP)—Wayne E. Westfall, former Merced chief of police, and Hampton W. Peterson, Eugene Prather and Clair Wolfson, all Mariposa cattlemen, are scheduled to appear before Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco tomorrow for arraignment on grand theft charges.

The four men were held to answer to superior court by Justice H. H. Carleton late yesterday on a complaint preferred by O. B. Price, Raymond stock raiser. They are charged with slaughtering a steer belonging to Price and dividing the meat.

Westfall is a candidate for sheriff of Mariposa county. The defendants are free on bail.

Confessed Slayer Sentenced To Die

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Robert Nixon, 18, a Louisiana Negro, who has confessed he killed four women and a girl in Chicago and Los Angeles during the past two years, was under sentence today to die in the electric chair.

He was found guilty last night by a criminal court jury of the murder of Mrs. Florence Johnson, 35, wife of a Chicago fireman, the night of May 26.

Nixon was captured by a police squad on its way to the Johnson home to investigate the slaying. He confessed the slaying three days later, then admitted the other slayings.

Slayer Wants To "Face the Music"

DETROIT, Aug. 5.—(UP)—John Deering, confessed slayer of a Salt Lake City business man, waived extradition today when arraigned before Judge Donald Van Zile. Deering said he wanted to go back "and face the music" for the murder of Oliver Meredith Jr., at Salt Lake City.

Two Salt Lake City detectives said they probably would start the return trip to Utah with Deering late today.

Dollar Day Tomorrow

Sensational bargains. Huge stocks of merchandise. Thousands of thrifty shoppers. These are the high points in the news of the city as merchants and customers today prepare to meet tomorrow in the greatest Dollar Day sales event in the history of the city.

No effort has been spared by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the merchandising event, local merchants and civic bodies in making the Dollar Day an opportunity for every shopper in Orange county.

Special Prices

For the past several months the merchants have been in close contact with wholesalers throughout the nation to secure the finest quality of merchandise at special prices for value-seeking customers.

REALTORS DISCUSS CITY MANAGER PLAN

Open discussion at the Santa Ana Realty board meeting by President Ray Goodell that members of the board consider the possibility of re-establishing a city manager form of government in Santa Ana.

Full discussion of the plan will be held at the meeting of the board one week from today.

In the informal discussion following adjournment of the meeting, Realtor Carl Mock pointed out that the political machinery of the city is so set up that the installation of a city manager could easily be accomplished.

Council Ernest Layton declared that one draw-back to the city manager plan at present was that a charter is required before the city council is permitted to give authority to the manager.

"Citizens of the Fifth Class, such as Santa Ana, are not permitted under the law to give authority to the manager without a vote of the people of the city on adoption of a charter," Layton stated.

The city several years ago was under a city manager for two years. E. B. Collier was manager from July 1927-28 and William Knox from July 1928-29. Both men operated without charter authority, city hall officials said today.

Letters Read At Murder Trial

SOUTH PARIS, Me., Aug. 5.—(UP)—Barbara Carroll, 17-year-old daughter of a former deputy sheriff on trial for murder, wrote Paul (Buddy) Dwyer that "you should have a girl that is not touched" in a letter read to the jury today.

It was one of a number of her letters to the youth who accused her father, Francis M. Carroll of committing the crime for which he is serving a life term. He also said the slaying of Dr. James G. Littlefield and his wife resulted from the doctor's threat to betray Carroll for allegedly assaulting his own daughter.

Prosecutor Ralph M. Ingalls introduced the letters when he put the 19-year-old Dwyer under red-hot examination after 101-2 hours of cross examination.

Spanish Rebels Bomb Valencia

VALENCIA, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Sixteen Nationalist planes dropped scores of heavy bombs on the port of Valencia today amid the furious firing of anti-aircraft guns. Re-verberations from the bombs shook the city and threw up dense clouds of smoke.

Claim Duce Plans War

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 5.—A purported secret document by Premier Benito Mussolini to his ambassadors abroad, revealing the preparations of Italy and Germany for a world war, was published today by the newspaper Greenwich Time.

The story of the document was signed by Wythe Williams, noted newspaper correspondent and writer, who is editor of Greenwich Time.

"Secret Instructions"

"The conscientious and minute preparation for world war, as foreseen by Germany and Italy, also the unbending steel in the famous Berlin-Rome axis, are revealed today exclusively by Greenwich Time, in a document purporting to have been sent by Mussolini to his ambassadors in London, Paris and

FOR FACES TEST IN KENTUCKY PRIMARY

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 5.—(UP)—One of the memorable campaigns of Kentucky's political history ended today.

Tomorrow an estimated half million Kentucky voters will go to the polls in a primary election, the majority vote on whether U. S. Senator Alben W. Barkley, blessed by President Roosevelt, or Gov. Albert B. (Happy) Chandler shall be the Democratic Senatorial nominee.

Because of Kentucky's Democratic majority, nomination in August means election in November.

Almost a month ago, President Roosevelt rode through Kentucky on his way westward, telling voters that he was for Barkley, the senate majority leader. Chandler would make a good Senator, the President said, but he added that Barkley's experience made him a better one.

Protest Close Of Glassell Street

Protesting the closing of South Glassell street in Orange during the building of the $47,000 bridge over the Santiago creek for the coming six months, about 40 business men and property owners sent a telegram to the state highway department yesterday which brought about an immediate promise today of an early survey of the feasibility of putting a by-path on the west side of the bridge.

According to D. R. Warren, southern representative of the bridge department of the state, such a by-path had not been considered before but a survey will be made at once. The telegram was dispatched to S. B. Cortelyou, Ray Nunn, 121 East Palmyra avenue, headed the list of petitioners stating that a similar by-path was used when the old bridge which is being replaced, was built. The present detour is east to Tustin street.

Plan Rites For C. E. Jackson

Funeral services for Calvin E. Jackson, pioneer settler and former sheriff of Orange county, who died yesterday, will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at Winbigler memorial chapel with the Rev. W. F. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating.

Interment will be made at Fairhaven cemetery. Santa Ana Odd Fellows Lodge 236, will be in charge of burial services. Pallbearers for the funeral will be John G. Baker, Ben H. Baker, Frank C. Gowen, W. J. Morrison, George Stoval and Earl Lentz.

Where Reds And Japanese Battle

New difficulties for Japan in her Chinese adventure are indicated on the map above. The cross at upper right shows where heavy fighting between Japanese and Russian troops has broken out on the Siberian-Manchukuo border. But in the Peiping area, "conquered" a year ago, peace has not yet been established. At points indicated by the crosses, guerilla attacks by Chinese Communist troops and armed farmers threaten in an area indicated by arrows the vital railway way linking Peiping and Tientsin with Mukden in Manchukuo. This railway is one of the chief supply lines for the Japanese military machine. The small inset shows the position in relation to China of the area covered in the large map.

PWA grants for Newport Union High school and the Buena Park Sanitary District were announced today by Regional Director Kenneth A. Godwin in San Francisco. The grants total $80,460.

BERRY IS SWAMPED BY CRUMP MACHINE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 5.—Sen. George L. Berry was defeated for renomination in yesterday's Democratic primary, almost complete returns indicated today. It was a triumph for the Ed Crump machine of Shelby county (Memphis) over the Gov. Gordon Browning state machine and promised a bitter fight in the Senate over the eligibility of Berry's successor.

Gov. Browning, seeking renomination as Berry's running mate, also was defeated by a Crump candidate—Prentice Cooper, of Memphis. Berry was defeated by Tom Stewart, a Winchester lawyer, the other Crump candidate.

Blame Engineer For Train Wreck

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(UP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission bureau of safety today blamed negligence of the crew for a head-on crash of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad.

One person was killed and 82 others, including 64 passengers, were injured when the Olympian crashed into a Civilian Conservation Corps special train in Montana.

The wreck occurred near the point where a sister train plunged through a trestle over flooded Custer Creek June 29, resulting in the death of 47 and injury to 75.

The safety bureau reported the accident was the result of the failure of the engineer on the Olympian to obey an operating order requiring him to meet and pass the CCC special at Ingomar, Mont.

Bandits Get $35,000 In Loot

WOODRIVER, Ill., Aug. 5.—(UP)—Three men today held up a payroll messenger for the Shell Petroleum company and robbed him of $35,000.

The messenger, Ralph Welsh, payteller for the First National bank of Woodriver, was just entering his automobile to drive to the plant when the three accosted him. Two carried sub-machine guns.

"This is a stick-up and we want that dough," one of them said. Welsh gave them the packages and the men fled.

Girl Prospector Finds Copper

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 5.—(UP)—A 29-year-old Southern California woman prospector—Miss Grace Finley of Copper City—started for home today, glad because she wouldn't have to hitch hike home.

She explained that she hitch hiked from Copper City to Salt Lake City early this week, lugging along a 25 pound box of samples from her mine, 40 miles north of Barstow. When Miss Finley reached the Utah capitol city, she promptly began the rounds of headquarters of major copper companies until she found a firm that would assay her ore. Results of the tests showed the rock worth about $15 a ton and the Utah Copper Company promptly ordered a geologist to take a company car and drive Miss Finley to Copper City and inspect the woman's property.

PLANS SECRET VISITS

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 5.—(UP) Viscount Runciman, newly arrived British "adviser" in the minority negotiations, intends to make a series of secret visits to various minority areas, it was understood today.

NIPPON PLAN TURNED DOWN

BY UNITED PRESS

Soviet Russia took a stern attitude towards Japan today in the Siberian border dispute.

First efforts for negotiations rather than further warfare were deadlocked. Maxim Litvinov, foreign commissar, in effect rejected a Japanese proposal for negotiation. He refused the Japanese suggestion that Soviet troops be withdrawn from the disputed area 150 miles south of Vladivostok, insisting that they were in Soviet territory.

Counter Proposal

Instead, Litvinov declared, Japan must withdraw her troops and then negotiate.

The attitude of Tokyo was conciliatory and officials there seemed to think that a break could be avoided. Even while the talks progressed, however, new violence flared on the border and an artillery battle was in progress.

ARTILLERY BATTLE BREAKS OUT

TOKYO, Aug. 5.—(UP)—An artillery battle broke out on the Siberia-Korea-Manchukuo frontier today as Japan sought to initiate diplomatic negotiations with Russia to settle the border dispute peacefully.

Russian artillery opened a bombardment of the Changkufeng area at 5:43 a. m. today, a foreign office spokesman said, and Japanese artillery then opened up in reply. It was indicated that the exchange was proceeding still this afternoon.

Attacks Reported

The Japanese war office issued a communique at 9 p. m. reporting that Soviet artillery had bombarded Changkufeng throughout the day. Sporadic attacks were also reported in the Kowu area.

Kensuke Horinouchi, vice foreign minister, at once made a strong protest against the Russian bombardment to Constantin Smetanin, the Russian embassy charge d'affaires, the spokesman said.

Before news reached here of the new outbreak, the foreign office spokesman had disclosed that Horinouchi yesterday made the same proposal to Smetanin as those made by Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu to Maxim Litvinov, Russian foreign commissar at Moscow.

Urges Evacuation

This involved evacuation of disputed frontier territory by both sides. The spokesman said that the Japanese government considered that a bi-lateral withdrawal, that is a withdrawal by both sides, was a necessary preliminary to a settlement.

The foreign office spokesman said that Shigemitsu's proposals had not been rejected outright by Litvinov, and that the foreign office still hoped there would be further negotiations. He said the officials were not familiar with the report as a whole.

POWERS DEADLOCKED; PEACE MOVE FAILS

MOSCOW, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Russia and Japan reached a deadlock today in their first effort to substitute negotiation for armed action in a dispute over the Siberia-Manchukuo-Korea frontier.

Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu was forced to report to his government that Maxim Litvinov, foreign commissar, had in effect rejected a Japanese proposal to negotiate.

The result was that on the basis of the attitudes of the Russian and Japanese governments as expressed by Litvinov and Shigemitsu, it was necessary for one side or the other to give way. There was not the slightest sign that Russia would be the one to give way, whatever the consequences.

Pioneer Mail Carrier Killed

The first rural mail carrier in California, Charles Johnson, of Santa Ana, was instantly killed in a traffic accident last night in Santa Monica, when he assertedly stepped in front of a speeding car.

Johnson carried the first mail route in the Fullerton area in the early 30's, according to officials of the postoffice department. Fifteen years ago Johnson was transferred to Santa Monica where he served as a postal carrier until his retirement. He recently had returned to take up his residence in Santa Ana.

Full details of the accident have not been learned, according to his son, Avery Johnson, an employee of the Sears-Roebuck company of this city. Smith and Tushill, mortuary will be in charge of funeral arrangements.

Rum Quiz Opened As Boy Is Nabbed

A 16-year-old Santa Ana Mexican boy found by Officers W. E. R. Sherwood and Cornish Roehm, staggering from side to side of the street and sidewalk at Fourth and Artesia last midnight, was booked at county jail on a drunk charge and placed in the juvenile department.

The youth refused to tell the officers where he had obtained the intoxicants but admitted he had drunk "four beers," they reported.

County Farm Bureau Backs Move To Halt Influx Of Transients

U. S. BUSINESS IS OPTIMISTIC

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Business in general is optimistic about the immediate future and from almost every section of the country there is a heartening upswing in trade, a nationwide survey by the United Press showed today.

Leaders reported that the downward spiral of the first six months of 1938 had leveled off and a distinct upturn is noticeable—although business generally is below 1937 levels.

One Dark Spot

From the textile towns of New England to the motion picture studios of Hollywood came reports "pretty good," "moderately encouraging" and "unusually favorable." The principal dark spot was in the coal fields of Pennsylvania. Steel, the nation's No. 1 heavy industry, is operating at 39.8 per cent of capacity, the best showing since last November.

Optimism manifested itself in these developments:

1. A brisk rise in security values
2. Continued advances on the New York stock market which have stimulated buying.
3. Definite signs of expansion of consumer purchasing during July.
4. Improved position of inventories of consumer goods in the hands of retailers.

Influx of Buyers

5. Large influx to New York and Chicago of retail merchants and buyers in a "buying mood."
6. Appreciable pickup in textile manufacturing, particularly in New England.
7. A spurt in steel mill operations.

8. Depleting new and used automobile stocks, presaging a good demand for 1939 models.
9. Increased building, indicating confidence in the future.
10. Favorable crop and crop conditions.

11. Checking of the unemployment spiral and absence of widespread wage cutting in 1938 following increases in 1937, according to the American Federation of Labor.
12. Increased attendance at major sports events, indicating people have more money to spend.

The directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau at a meeting yesterday for their monthly session approved a petition originating from the Kern county farm bureau which asks action by federal authorities to stem the tide of transient unemployed coming into California from the dust bowl or middle-western states.

The resolution adopted suggests disseminating information into the midwest and eastern states which will discourage migration to California of unemployed transient laborers. It further asks a system of federal and state relief expenditures that would prevent loading upon one state its undue share of relief costs.

Murky Named on Board

J. A. Murdy Jr., of Smelter, was seated as a new member of the board, filling a place left vacant by the resignation of L. A. Bortz, of Orange.

The dairy department of the farm bureau, announced Elmer Rittner, chairman, is joining in a campaign now being launched in California for a program within the state, which will help keep dairy cattle now in certified T. B. free areas clear from infection during the period between federal tests. The present program allows a term of three years to elapse, after an area has been declared T. B. free, before federal authorities make an additional test. A T. B. free area is one in which less than one-half of one per cent of dairy cattle tested react to a tuberculin test.

Indemnity Payments

A program will be advocated which would place administration in the hands of the state department of agriculture and support legislation to allow indemnity payments for cattle destroyed.

Members of the Farm Bureau who have participated in a blanket Workmen's Compensation Insurance policy carried by the County Farm Bureau are to receive a 30 per cent refund on premiums paid. This refund is made possible through a reduced amount of accidents occurring under the policy, it was stated by Farm Bureau officials.

Boy, 15, Loses Way, Sleeps In Barn, Breaks Arm

Fifteen-year-old Bob Skelly, who last night started here to visit his aunt, Mrs. F. W. Evans, 628 North Shelton, and to vacation at the beach, lost his way, went to sleep in a hay loft, walked in his sleep and broke his right arm in a fall, police were informed.

The youth said he went to "Tustin" by mistake and when he couldn't find his aunt's home, went to sleep in a nearby barn. About 12:30 a. m., he was awakened when he fell 10 or 15 feet from the hay loft to the ground, fracturing his forearm. Walking to the highway, he hitchhiked a ride with F. G. Stall, Route 2, Santa Ana, who took him to Santa Ana police headquarters. Officers A. P. Moulton and Clyde Fowler gave first aid and took the boy to county hospital for further treatment.

$49,615 Anaheim Contract Awarded

ANAHEIM, Aug. 5.—The Anaheim school board awarded a contract for $49,615 for remodeling work on the Washington school when it met Thursday night, the firm of Duff and Vanderhoogan being the successful bidder.

PWA funds will be used on the project, with work scheduled to start next month. Because of work on Anaheim school buildings, opening of school has been postponed to September 19.

PROWLER MAKES ESCAPE

A prowler in his neighbor's yard and garage was reported to police by Norman Daschner, 925 Kilson drive, at 9:40 p. m. yesterday. Although Daschner hunted the prowler, a man dressed in dark trousers and light-colored coat, and Officers W. E. R. Sherwood and Cornish Roehm investigated throughout the district, the prowler could not be located.

HUNT YOUTHFUL THIEF

A 16-year-old boy who climbed the fence at the municipal bowl yesterday afternoon and stole a transformer, valued at $25, from the loud-speaker set, was sought by Santa Ana police today. Harvey E. Chapman, caretaker of the bowl, told Officers Charles W. Wolford and Tom Kinney he and several boys hunted the thief for 20 minutes but could not find him.

PROPERTY SET AT $14,175,350

A valuation of $990,402,660 was placed on public utility property throughout California in a report submitted to the state board of equalization today by A. G. Mott, director of the board's valuation division.

While the value of tangible property represents a slight increase over the total assessment roll of the previous year, the roll to be submitted to counties for assessment purposes shows a reduction inasmuch as $11,668,530, representing the value of the rolling stock of private car companies and previously included in the local rolls, now is subject to state taxes only under the Private Car Tax Act of 1937.

In Orange County As a result of this change, it was explained, the value of tangible public utility property subject to local taxation was placed at $898,104,700 as compared with $948,851,280 for 1937. Intangible property was listed at $39,680,430 as compared with $55,094,920 the previous year.

In Orange county the 1937 utility values included tangible property, $14,242,660, as compared with 1936, tangible property, $14,175,350. Intangible property was not listed for Orange county.

In presenting the report to the board, Mott said:

Two Important Changes

"Although there have been various transfers and consolidations they have not resulted in any outstanding change in the quality of property assessed. The year has been marked, however, by two important changes of another nature: "1.—The somewhat drastic reduction in values that are found to obtain in the trunk line railroads and telegraph companies due to the effect of the present business recession and in part to other causes."

$10,000,000 Increase

"2.—The development of a very large oil field in the Wilmington district in which the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad company has a very large holding. This development has resulted in an increase in assessed value in property in that area assessed by the board of nearly $10,000,000.

"The major portion of the increase found in gas, electric and telephone companies is due to new construction.

"As a net result of all of these changes, the total value of tangible property assessed by the board has increased $2,121,050."

Until Aug. 15

In keeping with the new law providing for state taxation of "private cars," the board set a tax rate of $3.60 per $100 valuation of this type of utility property.

Board members pointed out that taxpayers have until August 15 in which to petition for reassessment, after which the assessment roll will be adopted in its final form.

The classification by groups of taxpayers included the following: with 1937 figures in parentheses: gas and electric companies ($597,629,710) $535,191,160; telephone and telegraph ($159,273,200) $166,139,440; pipe line companies ($24,860,950) $24,773,300; railroad companies ($269,364,450) $248,582,470; car companies (property subject to local taxes) ($11,743,090) $3,104,220; car companies (property subject to state taxes) $11,668,530; and express companies ($874,300) $944,540. The totals, ($1,003,746,200) and $990,402,660.

Roosevelt Cheers Ailing Seaman

ABOARD THE U. S. S. HOUSTON AT SEA, Aug. 5.—Via Naval Radio to the United Press.—A 35 year old seaman was recovering from an emergency appendectomy today, cheered by President Roosevelt's encouraging "don't worry" just before he went under the anesthetic.

The sailor, Oliver W. Halliwell, Wadena, Minn., machinist's mate aboard the Convoy Destroyer McDougal, was transferred to the Houston after he became ill last night.

As physicians prepared to operate, Mr. Roosevelt sent this message to the sailor:

"Don't worry. I had my appendix removed. I am all right. I know you will be."

SACRAMENTO FAIR OPENS

GALT, Cal. Aug. 5.—(UP)—Four days of entertainment and exhibits opened yesterday as gates were thrown open at the Sacramento County Fair and Horse Show, the largest celebration of its kind in the county other than the California State Fair at Sacramento.

Governor Frank Merriam was scheduled to crown the queen tonight after a historical pageant. Racing, horse pulling contests, carnival, amateur rodeo and horse show were among the events scheduled on the program.

HUMAN SUBJECTS USED TO TEST ELECTRIC TRAPS FOR INSECTS

BERKELEY, Aug. 5.—A test on 56 human male subjects to determine how much electrical energy may be directed into insect light traps without injury to the operators or others, has just been announced by the University of California.

In eighty-one recorded tests, the men, all students of the University, covered the range from one to 13.9 milliamperes without any untoward reaction. One student accommodated a charge of 22 milliamperes without difficulty.

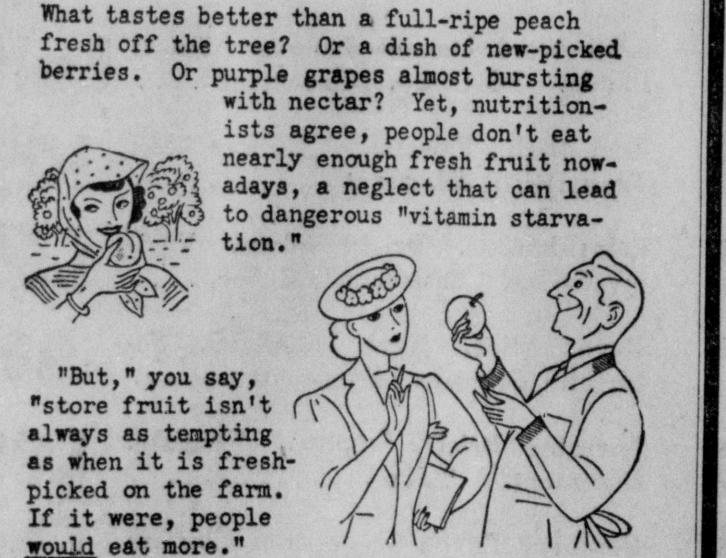

For Electrocution The traps are used for the most part for the electrocution of insect pests in orchards, vineyards and fields. The tests were to determine the requirements essential for efficient insect electrocution with a device which is safe from human hazard.

Between the two degrees of human tolerance noted, the University is endeavoring to develop a series of devices which will be lethal to most of the nocturnal flying insects now infesting California's orchards and fields. But much work remains to be done, according to J. R. Tavernetti, assistant agricultural engineer, and J. K. Ellsworth, assistant in entomology at the Experiment Station, who have been making an intensive joint study on the subject.

ARE YOU EATING ENOUGH FRESH FRUIT ?

By Julia Lee Wright
Director, Safeway Homemakers' Bureau

What tastes better than a full-ripe peach fresh off the tree? Or a dish of new-picked berries. Or purple grapes almost bursting with nectar? Yet, nutritionists agree, people don't eat nearly enough fresh fruit nowadays, a neglect that can lead to dangerous "vitamin starvation."

"But," you say, "store fruit isn't always as tempting as when it is fresh-picked on the farm. If it were, people would eat more."

I must admit that has been true. Our Safeway fruit and produce people have all realized this. In fact, we have been working on the problem for some time. Now we believe we have the solution in a method that controls dehydration.

Our studies showed that fruit can produce dry out with startling rapidity, and this process begins right after it is harvested. We found that as the moisture evaporates, so does that farm-fresh crispness, and much of the aroma and flavor. Even some of the all-important vitamins are lost. And once lost, no amount of sprinkling or watering will restore them.

And so we built a handling depot where the air could be kept constantly moist. It has worked out beautifully—you will find the fruit at our Safeway Stores crisper, more flavorful, and better for you than ever before. It's truly "farm fresh."

I prophesy that this new farm-fresh quality in Safeway fruit will tempt you to eat more of it. All of which should be good news to you as well as to the fruit grower.

BOARD DEFINES 'LEGAL VOTING'

Clarifying a point on the relationship between elections and the requirement in the alcoholic beverage control act forbidding sale of liquor during an election, the state board of equalization ruled the recent vote of grape-growers on a pro-rate program was not an election within the meaning of the act.

In Political Areas
According to William G. Bonelli, board member from this district, the section of the act applying to elections is designed to apply only to elections in political subdivisions of the state. The grape growers and similar groups are not political subdivisions.

Elections in school districts, improvement or water districts are considered elections in political subdivisions and during such liquor may not be sold in the area involved. The ban of course also applies to city, county, state or national elections.

ERROR PROVES FATAL

FRESNO, Cal., Aug. 5.—(UP)—Coroner J. N. Lisle today dismissed a suicide theory in connection with the death last night of David Axt, 35, who consumed more than a pint of fly spray at his home here.

Investigating officers reported Axt was intoxicated and apparently drank the poison believing it contained alcohol.

ITALY SHIELDS LITTLE COLONY

By JOSEPH D. RAVOTTO
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Aug. 5.—(UP)—On the outskirts of Bari is the little known quasi-autonomous Armenian town of Nor Arax founded 15 years ago by refugees.

Fleeing for their lives as a consequence of the Greco-Turkish War of 1922, about 40 Armenians sought refuge in Italy the following year. Their homes destroyed and most of their relatives and friends dead, they found a new site upon which they could start life anew.

They arrived in Italy empty-handed, clad in tattered rags. Many of them still limped from the wounds inflicted by the Turks. Today they have realized their dream. There is the modern little town of Nor Arax and their number has augmented to more than 100.

They are relatively prosperous and the harrowing experiences of 15 years ago are nothing more than an unpleasant dream. They ply the trade of their forefathers—carpet weaving—and have built several mills with up-to-date looms and equipment.

Enforce Own Local Laws
Italian authorities have granted them relative freedom in conducting their own affairs. They have their own school, their own church and they are permitted to apply their own local laws.

In return for these concessions they have certain obligations toward the country which granted them hospitality. They have engaged themselves to obey the national laws, to teach Italian in their school, to send their youths to do their period of military service and to respect the political ideology of the nation.

Their former homes may be thousands of miles away but the character of the Near East has been definitely imprinted on Nor Arax. Their children may speak Italian with the local Bari accent but the customs, habits and even the language of old Armenia prevail. A tiny new Armenia has been raised in the heart of the Apuglia region.

The spiritual and material leaders of these people is tall, lean, white-bearded, Hrand Nazariantz. Poet, philosopher, writer, preacher and agitator, he is looked upon with awe and reverence by his followers. He is their prophet and they call him "Magi."

It was Nazariantz who led the original band there 15 years ago. It was his will and faith that carried them through the first trying experiences on an unknown land.

Their first winter in Italy was a difficult one. They were without clothing and shelter and food was received with great irregularity. Nazariantz made impassioned pleas for the first people of Bari and later to the nation as a whole for aid to his countrymen. Newspapers and social workers became interested in the Armenians.

His pleas were answered and food, clothing and material soon began to pour in from everywhere. The government furnished six large pavilions which is built on strong cement bases for them.

Municipalities, individuals and other public and private enterprises sent furniture, clothing, building material, medicine, house utensils, seeds and poultry. A church was constructed for them. Bari supplied the new neighbors with running water and electricity. Even the silk to weave an Armenian flag was supplied by an Italian woman.

Although he has greatly aged from his sustained efforts, Nazariantz is still as active as ever. Today the "Magi" concentrates all his energies upon the young. He teaches them the language and literature of Armenia. He tells them tales of an Armenia which they have never seen, of their forefathers and of the exploits of the national heroes. He carefully explains the Bible and in moments of recreation even reads his own poems to this young admiring audience, who one day will carry on the labors of that original band of 40.

NAMED TO BOARD

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Otto Larson of Watsonville today was appointed by Gov. Frank Merriam as director of the 14th district Agricultural Association and a member of the district board of agriculture, replacing Louis Lopes, of Watsonville, resigned.

Former Convict

Evangelist C. Bill Dunn, above, converted St. Louis gangster and former dope addict, will begin a series of revival services at the Foursquare Gospel church, Fairview and Sycamore streets starting at 7:30 p. m. today. Dunn will conduct services nightly except Saturday nights. Included among the sermon topics to be presented by Dunn are "From Prison to Pulpit," "How I Was Cured of the Dope Habit I Had For Seven Years," and "One Hundred and Thirty-One Days In Solitary Confinement."

Beckley Opens New Business Here

Recently returned from a year's residence in Flagstaff, Arizona, Gordon H. Beckley today announced the purchase of the Union Oil service station at First and Cypress streets.

Beckley formerly was in business in Santa Ana as an employee of the J. C. Penney store for more than eight years.

"I welcome the opportunity to return to Santa Ana and to once more renew my acquaintanceship in the community," Beckley said.

A. W. Gerrard Is Taken Home

A. W. Gerrard of the Alpha Beta store, of 2422 Heliotrope drive, who has been critically ill at Santa Ana Valley hospital for the past two months has improved sufficiently to allow his transfer to his home, it was announced today.

However, visitors must be restricted to a limited number, his physician reported.

COUNCIL PLANS NEW PROJECTS

SEAL BEACH, Aug. 5.—Visions of major municipal improvements loomed large last night when the city council in regular session adopted a resolution seeking grant of $33,750 and loan of $41,250 for the purchase of two Ocean avenue blocks adjacent to the proposed $109,000 pier.

The council heard an unofficial report from City Attorney Burr A. Brown that attorneys for the Security First National bank, owner of the desired strip, are drawing an option to purchase for $75,000, and instructed City Engineer Victor W. Hayes to submit complete plans and specifications of the pier for final governmental approval so that construction may start at the earliest possible date.

Tentative plans for an entire new bridge over Anaheim Bay channel, instead of repairs for the existing structure, and possible erection of a municipal auditorium to be financed through a Works Progress administration program, will be worked out in detail at special sessions of the council next week, when the body will sit as a municipal board of equalization from Monday through Friday.

TWO MEN BOOKED AS DRUNK DRIVERS

Two men were booked at county jail last night on charges of drunk driving an dbeing drunk. John Albert Scovill, 35, 421 1-2 East First street, Santa Ana, was arrested yesterday afternoon near First and Main streets after his car, being driven from a parking place at the curb, collided with a car operated by L. A. Hannan, 1240 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles.

Hannan reported the fender of his car was damaged. A doctor pronounced Scovill "slightly intoxicated and unfit to drive."

Clarence Townsend, 25, Monrovia, was arrested by California Highway Officers Ernest Sawyer and Norman Heffner.

Car Hits Bicycle Without Lights

Absence of lights on a bicycle at 8 p. m. yesterday was blamed for an accident at Washington and Bush streets, police were informed. An automobile driven by Arthur G. Morris, 35, 809 West Third, Santa Ana, and a bicycle ridden by Carlos Orendine, 14, 1019 East Washington, Santa Ana, collided. Orendine said he was not injured.

"Humane Bits"

By WAGS ROBINSON

(Still dog-robbing at Big Bear for Florence Robinson.)

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Anderson, East Fifth street, have been camping the past few days with De-mara Lopien. Her son Leonard and Marian V. Lentz and children Marilyn and Harley, of S. Sycamore street.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fink and young daughter spent a few days in the "Hankey Pankey" with all day.

Mrs. Fink's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Pankey, 811 No. Broadway. Sam certainly had my family spellbound one night with the account of his recent mountain climbing on Mt. Whitney. On the side I have my ideas of Sam. I think he rather upsets Darwin's theory, for he must be part mountain goat.

We had grand fun for four days when "Pop" and Yona Elders (son of Garden Grove) and their progeny, Ruth and Danny, visited us. Danny and I were great pals and hunted chipmunks and lizards

"Pop" proved himself not to be an absent-minded professor. You know he teaches chemistry and tennis at Garden Grove h. As a straight for the other side of the lake, but Leonard-eramped my style completely by blocking my jackie, so, instead I climbed aboard the diving platform. And you know what? Mistress and Jeanne Louise added insult to injury by soaping me and rinsing me up and down in the lake. They say I now gleam like copper, but to me I smell like antiseptic.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Grimstead and their cute six-year-old Valerie of Los Angeles, spent last week end in the Clem. Dawes cabin. Mrs. Grimstead, you know, was Roberta Dawes of Santa Ana. I had a swell chance to get that old noisy thunder, yesterday. Was out in the boat while my family and Leonard Lopien and Marilyn and Harley Kientz were swimming. When thunder started rumbling, over the side I went straight for the other side of the lake, but Leonard-eramped my style completely by blocking my jackie, so, instead I climbed aboard the diving platform. And you know what? Mistress and Jeanne Louise added insult to injury by soaping me and rinsing me up and down in the lake. They say I now gleam like copper, but to me I smell like antiseptic.

Ruth Hood and "Zeppy" Mathews are still in the Mathews' cabin in next door, getting browner every day.

You know, we are in the "Home James" cabin which was built by Mrs. Laura M. James of Santa Ana, who died last winter. My mistress says it is rather sad to look at the great pile of beautiful wool quilts, knowing Mrs. James put her time and love into each quilt. We hope she knows we appreciate their warmth.

We met Mrs. Mable Prescott of Newport Road Sunday evening while dining at her sister's cafe at Pine Knot. Chad's cafe, run by Mrs. Blanche Chadowine is practically a landmark as she has been here 20 years.

Mrs. Prescott's 14-year-old son, Johnny, is proving himself quite a business man with his archery and Chinese checkers concession next to his aunt's cafe.

Lots of Santa Anans will remember Alden (Sherlock) Holmes who used to visit Truman Dawes during Stanford college internships. Well, his dad, B. G. Holmes who came up here for his health, 40 years ago from New England, sums up his gratefulness and appreciation for all of us with the following verse: The Rim of the World where the clouds pass by

Hangs just above earth and span below the sky. Its portals give promise of vistas unfold, its windings and findings a landscape unfold,

Which is now at one's feet, which is next—miles away. Tinged with sunsets of night and with sunbeams of day, its heights and its depths are a constant surprise Like the snow of Grayback that dazzle the eyes.

All its lakes lie in pockets of azure and gold, Tucked away in its forest thousand years old, Where the clang of the city, it hard, sordid strife— Does not enter this haven nor its wild life. Yes, a mile above sea, 'twixt the earth and the sky, Is the Rim of the World, where the clouds pass by."

Woof, woof, I'll be scenting you soon, White strips down the center of roads were introduced in Michigan in 1912.

SURVEYS AID TO STATE WORKERS

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 5.—A complete survey of the benefits paid workers in 86 industrial classifications in California up to June 30 was announced today by John F. Chambers, Oakland, member of the Unemployment Reserves Commission representing labor.

Employees in 18 classifications of manufacturing industries received 46.257 percent of the total benefits paid, Chambers said, or $4,575,047.48, at an average payment per check of $9.26. In this group of 18, employees of food manufacturing industries received $1,660,218.92, or 16.786 per cent of the state total.

Third Highest Rate
Workers in trade accounted for the second largest group of payments, according to Chambers, the unemployed in eight trade classifications receiving $1,704,726.17, or 17.236 percent of the state total.

Employees in 10 classifications of service groups received the third highest rate of benefits, $1,035,732.91, or 10.472 per cent of the total. Motion picture companies and theaters are included in this group. Employees under this classification received $327,068.16 in unemployment insurance benefits, or 3.408 per cent of the state total payments.

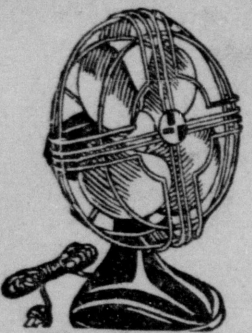

Other Classifications
Highest average weekly payments went to unemployed workers in the rubber products manufacturing industry. The 16,119 checks distributed to these workers averaged $11.71 each. The state average of 1,035,928 checks totaling $8,890,497.62 was $9.55 each, Chambers said.

Other industrial classifications in which checks averaged more than $11, representing largely the skilled trades were metalliferous mining, oil production, refining and oil company operations, machinery manufacturing, railroad and street car operations.

Find Body Of River Victim

FRESNO, Cal., Aug. 5.—(UP)—The body of Ray McBride, Trimmer Springs SRA camp worker, the second of two youths drowned while swimming in the Kings river Sunday, was recovered late yesterday, sheriff's deputies reported.

An hour earlier the body of McBride's companion, Edward Trunkie, 28, was recovered one and one-half miles from the point where the two tried to swim across the river. McBride's body was found about three miles further down stream.

Main Attraction

Les Parker, above, who is known as the "maestro of the piano," and his orchestra, will be the featured attraction starting Sunday, at the Casino San Clemente, Tom Devine, manager, announced.

MAESTRO OF PIANO TO PLAY AT CASINO

Starting Sunday, Aug. 7, Les Parker, the "maestro of the piano," and his orchestra, will be the featured attraction at the Casino San Clemente, according to Tom Devine, manager of the Casino. Co-featured with Parker is Dorothy Eilers, petite vocalist, who until recently was with the George Jessel radio show.

Parker, who has been heard on transcontinental radio hook-ups from the Wilshire Bowl, the Coconut Grove and other prominent Los Angeles dancing places, is nationally famous for his rendition of difficult piano selections. His playing is of the Eddie Duchin style, from which he derives the distinction of being known as the "Little Maestro of the Ivories."

"The Casino will be open every night excepting Monday, until after Labor Day, with every night a 'Gala' affair, with the greatest attraction of all, the danceable music of Parker," announced Devine.

Separate State Appraising Board To Be Created

County assessors won their campaign for a separate state appraising board for common property, Assessor James Sleeper said today following his return from Sacramento where he and District Attorney W. F. Menton appeared before the state board of equalization in connection with another matter.

The local officials appeared at a hearing of the claim by the City of Los Angeles that property in its Seal Beach power plant, assessed by Sleeper as improvements, actually is personal property and therefore exempt from tax. The claim was taken under advisement by the state board, which last year rejected a similar claim. Last year's claim now is before the state supreme court.

Just before the hearing, county assessors held a meeting and framed a request to the state board that common property be assessed by appraisers not connected with the appraisers of public utilities. The state board indicated that it would grant the request, Sleeper said today.

SANTA ANA

HATFIELD DRIVE OPENED IN S. A.

Organization of the Hatfield for Governor campaign in Orange county was perfected last evening at an enthusiastic meeting of committee chairmen held in Santa Ana at Hatfield for Governor headquarters, 207 North Main street.

Otto A. Jacobs, well known local attorney and general chairman for the Orange county Hatfield for Governor committee, presided. Arthur Eklund, secretary of the committee reported the organization of active community committees throughout the county. Committees for finance, women's organizations, veterans and precinct work were appointed to coordinate the large Republican groups throughout Orange county that are swinging to the support of Hatfield's candidacy.

Russell N. Lockwood, of Los Angeles, Hatfield campaign director for Southern California addressed the meeting, briefly outlining the rapid development of the Hatfield campaign throughout the 10 Southern California counties. Dr. Howard Seager of Balboa Island, campaign coordinator for the Southern Counties, also spoke.

Venus's flower basket, a glass-like sponge of the ocean depths, is so fragile that a slight touch of the hand will crush it, yet it lives continually under the terrific water pressure at the bottom of the sea.

S. A. GROUP TO SEE DEVICE TO TEST DRINKING AUTOISTS

Santa Ana soon may have the latest scientific device to test the intoxication point of drunk drivers, it was indicated at a special meeting of the Santa Ana Traffic Safety Commission yesterday as Chairman Elmer Heidt was authorized to secure complete data on the machine.

Tell of Strike

The device being considered by the Commission recently was demonstrated by Judge Harry H. Porter, of Evanston, Ill., in a meeting attended by commissioners in Los Angeles.

Tells Exact Degree
By taking a sample of a suspect's breath in a small rubber balloon, forcing it through a solution of sulphuric acid and potassium permanganate bleached in exact ratio to the amount of alcohol in the breath, the exact degree of intoxication of a person can be easily determined, Judge Porter explained.

Lieut. A. B. Hershey, of the police department, reported to the commission that six letters have been received in the commission's "Courtesy Snooper Campaign" and letters of appreciation from the commission will be mailed to motorists as soon as the license numbers have been checked.

The commission recommended to the city council that luminous markings for pedestrians be made at Tenth and North Main streets, Oxford and South Main streets, and Bishop and South Main streets.

Pressures and conflicts incident to the "Little Steel" strike were felt inside the Plymouth Congregational church at Youngstown, O., testified the Rev. Orville C. Jones, lower photo, then its pastor, in hearings before the Senate Civil Liberties Committee in Washington. Frank Purnell, top, president of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., testified that he ceased his regular contributions and only resumed them after the Rev. Jones had left the church.

County Residents To Attend Tea

Fifty Orange county residents today are preparing to attend a tea to be given at the Los Angeles Elks club, 607 Parkview street, Los Angeles, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Dockweiler, Democratic candidate for governor, it was announced by Mrs. Elizabeth E. M. Leland, chairman of the Orange county Dockweiler committee.

The tea will be held from 4:30 p. m. with the Warner Brothers studios in charge of the program. Dockweiler will speak on his candidacy.

LIGHTS JAIL DRIVER

Because he drove his car in Riverside county at night with faulty lights, Edward W. Clasen, 25, 1028 West Sixth street, Santa Ana, landed in county jail yesterday—but not for long. Arrested by Deputy Sheriff John Gilmore on a bench warrant, Clasen was booked, furnished $5 bail and was released.

STRANGE FACES TO BE SEEN IN ARENA

With but few exceptions fighters who have never done battle in the Highway 101 arena will be featured next Monday night on the fight card at the Orange County Athletic club.

While the majority of the fighters signed for next week's show are new local fans they are well known in other Southern California clubs where they have been strutting their stuff. Matchmaker Frankie Lockhart said today that he has secured the best men available in the Los Angeles area.

In the main event "Joe Gomez, Santa Ana boy who has fought his way through the preliminaries will get his big chance when he meets Leslie Franklin of Los Angeles in the top half of the double main event at 135 pounds. In the second half of the double main go Benny Garcia, another slugging Santa Ana boy, takes on Harold Bell, Los Angeles, at 120 pounds. Charley Stone, the Fullerton Junior College fighter, meets Jimmy Colban of Los Angeles at 160 pounds.

The preliminary matches will include: Felix Gomez, Santa Ana, vs. Carl Booth, Los Angeles, 120 pounds; Ceterino Diaz, Ontario, vs. Tony Frayo, Los Angeles, 135 pounds; Art Azvedo, Los Angeles, vs. Cruz Diaz, Ontario, 132 pounds; Joe Martinez, Santa Ana, vs. Jimmy Stevens, Los Angeles, 126 pounds and Johnny Chavez, Santa Ana, vs. Joaquin Padillo, Ontario, 118 pounds.

In medieval England, a notched stick was the baker's "account book." He gave a stick to each customer and cut a notch for each loaf delivered. Customers paid for as many loaves as their sticks showed notches at the end of the week.

37 PASS CIVIL SERVICE TESTS

Thirty-seven applicants for police and fire department jobs were successful in passing with a grade of 70 or more the examination given by the Santa Ana Civil Service Commission on July 14 at the Santa Ana High school. It was announced today by Phil Brown, secretary of the commission.

Twenty-one of the candidates passed the police department tests, a check of the grading revealed. Successful applicants in this division were: Gerald C. Bower, Elwood C. Heard, Hamlin H. Ely, R. C. Brockett, Harold H. Boyce, Forrest L. Duke, Russell E. Schmeberger, J. L. Casey, C. J. Baxter, H. H. McCusker, P. P. Prentice, W. C. Sackman, Herman Stahl, Louis M. Holmes, Thomas Kinney, Norton J. Palmer, Harris M. Leary, Clifford Lee, Burley E. Durbin, Joseph McChesney, and George E. Miles.

The 14 who passed the fire department examination included: Earl Bashor, J. C. Decker, Forest L. Duke, Burley E. Durbin, Delbert C. Bend, Elwood C. Heard, R. Bruce Harmons, W. A. Hadley, W. F. Graven, Wayne L. Gross, Clarence A. Patmore, James W. Mathews, Carl C. Shoop, and William Allen White.

The commission refused to reveal the exact rating of the applicants.

ASKS ANNULMENT
Annulment of Curtis Adrien Neal's marriage at Yuma last October 17 to Kathryn Albee Neal was asked today in a suit filed in superior court by the youth through his mother, Honesty Era Neal, who states that her son was only 19 and lacked parental consent at the time of the marriage.

HUSBAND CHARGES CRUELTY
Thomas Halseth charged cruelty in a suit for divorce filed today in superior court against Agnes Ruth Halseth, whom he married in Duluth, Minn., April 4, 1913.

It's Dollar Day Here Tomorrow

The merchants of the city have not only taken into consideration the buying needs of house-hold shoppers but have prepared lavish stocks of merchandise for early fall shopping.

Aid Visitors
Special arrangements have been made with the Santa Ana city council and the police department of the city to facilitate parking in the downtown area. On the front page of today's Register is printed a shoppers' courtesy parking coupon that will give unrestricted parking rights to every car owner. Office workers and store employees in the downtown area are cooperating and a concerted effort to keep the city streets free for parking will be made.

Special efforts have been made by the merchants to speed up the service in their stores so that the thousands of bargain-wise customers may have prompt and courteous service.

Credit for this outstanding retail sales day goes to the retail division of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, according to merchants. This group has unstintingly given of its time and money that such a merchandising event could be possible and is worthy of wholehearted support of the entire community, they said.

FDR Faces Test In Kentucky
Both candidates have campaigned tirelessly. They have crossed and recrossed the state, speaking in almost every city and hamlet. From the Ohio river to the Cumberland and from the Blue Grass to the Mississippi, voters have heard their bitterly personal speeches.

Charges Hurdled
Sen. Barkley chose to dwell on the fact that he is a 100 per cent New Dealer. He chided Chandler for being lukewarm to the President and accused him of "reactionary Republicanism."

WORLD AFFAIRS PROVIDE TOPICS

E. K. Woods, guest of El Camino Toastmasters club at Daniger's last night, who has been a resident of China in the Mukden area for 25 years, presented a special commentary on the present Russo-Japanese tension, basing the talk on his many years' residence in Manchukuo.

Woods is a brother-in-law of Dr. J. M. Bulpitt, member of El Camino.

Synthetic Food
Duane Armstrong in the speaking contest, won first place, with the subject, "A synthetic Civilization," telling of the German government's development of synthetic food and clothing products from wood and pointing out that loyal Germans, as a duty to the Fatherland, are urged to buy the synthetic goods.

Hubert Gohres, with "So You're Going to Quit Smoking," treatise on the habit of smoking, and ways to rid oneself of the habit, and Ben Schlegel, with "Reincarnation," logical presentation of the arguments for and against a belief in reincarnation and the transmigration of souls, were tied for second place.

Field of Invention
Other speakers were Dr. Bulpitt on "A Scientific Discovery," story of the accidental finding of radium and the great field of invention it opened, and John Colwell on "Legislation and Women," showing the need for emphasis on the contribution women have made in national affairs.

Leon Lauderbach was toastmaster of the evening; Phil Hood was general critic, assisted by John Jacob, Don Jordan, E. M. Sundquist, Joe Daniger, John Maxwell, and Bill Fernandez.

PLAN HUMISTON REUNION
Former Deputy Sheriff Fred Humiston has been spending the last few days at Laguna Beach, where a family reunion will be held over the week end. His son, Tom Humiston, Santa Clara county probation officer, will be here from San Jose tomorrow to join his father and two sisters, Dorothy and Genevieve. Dorothy will return next week to Cedar Falls, Iowa, where she is on the faculty of the State Teachers College.

Claim Duce Is Planning War

Washington.
"This document, labeled 'secret instructions' is signed 'Sebastian,' the name belonging to one of the closest collaborators on the staff of the Italian dictator.

Denial Expected
"The contents are sufficiently sensational as to bring, in all probability, a quick denial, accompanied possibly by denunciation from Rome, but that is quite the old fashioned custom in diplomacy."

Excerpts from the text of the alleged document, as printed by Greenwich Time, included the following statements:

Urgent Action
"It is therefore necessary to translate the force of the * axis which has found, in May of this year, its renewed, solemn expression, into real political deed."

The document said that even if the London non-intervention plan is accepted, it will not affect the war in Spain, because the proposed agreement for withdrawing foreign forces is spread over so long a period that "by that time, the last phase of the war must be decided."

Italy and Germany, it declared, must be prepared to continue their activity in Spain and increase their forces.

Huge Bombers Visit Columbia
MIAMI, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Three giant army bombers took off at 3:08 a. m. today for a nonstop flight of 1600 miles across the Caribbean sea to Bogota, Colombia.

Each plane carried a crew of six men. They are of the flying fortress type with four motors and a cruising range of 3000 miles.

The planes and their crews will participate in the ceremonies attending the inaugural of Eduardo Santos as president of Colombia on Sunday.

Great Day For Irish In N.Y.

shop, Corrigan helped to assemble "The Spirit of St. Louis" in which Lindbergh flew to Paris. Ever since, Corrigan has had but one dream—to be like Lindbergh—Today he said:

"Lindbergh Greatest"
"Lindbergh is not only the greatest flyer, he is the greatest man in the world. I wouldn't be here and this wouldn't be happening if it weren't for him."

It was a question which New York refused to argue. The greatest man of the day, at least, was Douglas Corrigan, and there was none to dispute it.

Corrigan Lonely
For the 120 pound Corrigan, the gigantic and occasionally hysterical reception was overwhelming. There were times when the customarily cocky little man in the brown leather jacket looked lonely and forlorn. There were times when the twinkle in his Irish eyes may have been caused by suddenly starting tears.

But those moments were few and of brief duration.

"If all my mistakes turn out like this one," he said, "I'll be a lucky guy."

had been running just a little behind the Crump candidates, but when a large portion of the Shelby county returns were dumped into the totals early today, they seemed hopelessly outdistanced.

In the fifth congressional district, Joseph Byrns Jr., son of the late speaker of the House of Representatives, defeated Rep. Richard Atkinson for the Democratic nomination and will take a seat in the house where his father was a famous figure for years.

In Tennessee, the Democratic nomination is tantamount to election.

Both sides in the bitterest primary campaign of the season, had accused the other of corrupting the polls, intimidating voters, coercing federal and state employees.

Now that Italy possesses an empire, the note said "to avoid the catastrophic plague of mongrelism or the creation of a race, neither European or African, which would foment disintegration and revolt, it is not sufficient to promulgate severe laws but also necessary to develop strong sentiment, pride and even present consciousness of race."

"Not Persecution"
"To discriminate does not mean to persecute. The Italian government has no special plan of persecution against the Jews as such."

The note charged that Jews have been "the most integral, most intransigent and most ferocious apostles of radicalism, and accused Jews of having too close a connection with Masonry and international Bolshevism."

JULY BUSINESS CREATES ZEST

Local business conditions so improved in July that the index of business activity computed by the research department of Security-First National bank went up two full points, local bank officials declared today. The July figure, 92.3 (preliminary), marks the highest level at which the index has stood since January, when it was 94.3.

"Recovery trends were evident over a fairly broad front during the month, including many of the most important lines of local activity. Building continued the bright spot, with volume better sustained than is usual at this season.

National Also Gains
Prospective farm income has been increased by price advances. Petroleum statistics reflect the best balance between supply and demand in many months. Industrial output gained moderately in July while consumption, as measured by department store sales, showed the first improvement in several months.

"National business statistics also reflect gains and statisticians are now estimating that the federal reserve index of production may prove to be above 80 for July. It stood at 76 in May and 77 in June.

Outlook Favorable
"Although the actual increase in business volume as reflected by the indexes is as yet of modest proportions, statistical indications continue to point toward recovery. This fact, together with hope engendered by rising stock prices and prospective government spending, is keeping most business men in a favorable frame of mind and expectations of better conditions this fall are now widespread.

"Throughout the current recession business volume in Southern California has been better maintained than at eastern centers. This has been due primarily to activity in the building field which is the leading 'heavy' industry of the Los Angeles area. Building permits during the first half of 1938 have equaled those of the comparable period a year ago.

Newport in Lead
"While some types of construction not reflected by permits have been less active, reducing the aggregate volume somewhat, the general situation has been favorable and has done much to sustain local prosperity."

Building permits in the three leading communities of the county are as follows: Anaheim, first six months 1938 $606,000, first six months 1937 $235,000, with a percentage increase of 157; Newport Beach, first six months 1938 $609,000, first six months 1937 $622,000, percentage loss of 2.1; and Santa Ana, first six months 1938 $574,000, first six months 1937 $691,000, percentage loss of 16.0.

Newport Hearing Set For Aug. 10

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 5.—Reconsideration of a contemplated program of municipal improvements approximating $661,300 or $200,000 more than the amount submitted to the planning commission July 2 in the report of the civic committee of 50, will occupy members of the planning group at a session early Wednesday. The date marks the first of the two additional public hearings advertised by the commission to remove any doubt concerning the legality of the proposed bond issue. The second public hearing was advertised for August 24. Discarding the original plan of holding a special meeting this week, now date for the meeting was set Tuesday afternoon by commission officials.

Set Salaries Of Police Officers

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 5.—Salaries of police officers and firemen were fixed by the city council when that body adopted a regulatory ordinance. The ordinance will be effective 30 days. The ordinance places the number of police officers including the chief of police at 13 and provides for three summer relief officers and allows appointment of 10 special officers. The salaries range from $135 to $175 according to the rank of officer.

The salary of the firemen was fixed at $135 for the first year, $145 for second, $155 for third and $160 for fourth.

BOLSA

BOLSA, Aug. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley were at Victorville recently.

Mr. and Mrs. John King, both of whom were ill the past week, are reported as improved. The Portuguese picnic held Sunday at Hynes was attended by a number of families from this section and Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Wallingford went as guests. Included from here were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Machado and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rodriguez and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Viera and family and Mr. and Mrs. John Ceollo and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bauer and sons were entertained as guests over the week end by Mr. and Mrs. William Kettler at their mountain cabin at Big Bear.

Mr. and Mrs. John Allen have left on a week's vacation which they will spend at Las Vegas and in Arizona.

Roles Change, Men Carry Horses

Doggedly pushing on in their North China drive, Japanese forces are moving through areas where roads have been obliterated by Yellow River floods and horses must be ferried to former highlands, where engineers are building new roads. Instead of cavalry horses carrying the men, they must be taken in boats to where they can find footing.

Hatle Acquitted In Driving Case

A jury in superior court late yesterday acquitted Oscar Hatle, charged with felony drunk driving in connection with injury of five persons in a traffic crash at Newport Beach May 30.

The jury deliberated from 12:06 to 4:22 p. m. before returning a verdict of not guilty.

Shower Held By H.B. Club Members

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 5.—Members of the Three Link Thimble club gave Mrs. Frances McCormick an apron shower Wednesday, when she was hostess at an exchange luncheon held at the home of her aunt, Mrs. C. J. Porter, 215 Seventh street. A number of gifts were presented to "silent sisters" during the afternoon.

Attending were Mesdames Nola Godfrey, president; Bertha Criley, Grace Scott, Grace Moranville, Elizabeth Andrews, Clara Malone, Emeline Lewis, May Ritchie, Luelia Buckner, Pearl Jones, Gertrude Catching, C. J. Porter and the hostess.

1500 ATTEND FESTIVAL IN LAGUNA BEACH

VIOLINISTS TO GIVE PROGRAM

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 5.—Approaching its final stages, with closing scheduled for tomorrow night, attendance at the current Festival of Arts continued undiminished last night, when an estimated 1500 people passed through the gates.

Violin Selections
Roderick Krohn, concert violinist, accompanied by Mrs. H. M. Robinson, presented a group of selections, including the "Ave Maria" of Schubert and a composition by the violinist himself, "By A Gypsy Campfire." The violinist's ensemble, the "Festival dancers," "We Three," women's trio, Martha Shaw, danseuse and the Cleo Allen Hibbs orchestra completed a fine program.

The Pageant of the Masters, in which 11 masterpieces of painting and three famous sculptures were recreated by living models, was climaxed by the "Last Supper" tableau, immortalized by Leonardo da Vinci, and recently presented by the same cast as used for the past three Festivals.

Ensemble Featured
Tonight's performance will feature the Elwood Bear senior violin ensemble, well known in Santa Ana, in a program of string instrument music, accompanied by Mary Perry and led by Elwood Bear.

Tomorrow's closing performance will present many special attractions. Hours for performances remain unchanged: 1 p. m. on, in the afternoon, and 7 o'clock at evening showings.

The personnel of the senior ensemble is as follows: Eleanor Miller, Valeria Porter, Simon Plas, Mary Everett, Nella Onson, Otto Schroeder, Margaret Jahrg, Robert Forney, Mary Maxwell, Helen Lutz, Barbara Lowery, Bernard Cook, Barbara Robinson, Virginia Wilber, Mary Toyoda, Ana May Archer, Nina Staples and Mary Perry, accompanist.

Report Gambling Places Closed

Following a request yesterday by Atty. General U. S. Webb to District Atty. W. F. Menton and Sheriff Logan Jackson that all gambling establishments be closed in incorporated areas of the county and that gambling devices be removed, reports were circulated today, that "practically all gambling establishments in Balboa, Newport Beach and Huntington Beach have voluntarily closed."

The sheriff said Police Chief R. R. Hodgkinson of Newport Beach and Balboa called him last night, stated he wished to cooperate and would order the marble machines and other gambling devices out.

Those in charge of games at Huntington Beach reported they have quit operations voluntarily.

Arraignment of Charles Calhoun, 28-year-old ex-convict charged with the murder of his step-father, 30-year-old Clyde Dillinger, today was continued for two weeks in superior court.

Calhoun, recovering from his second attack of hysteria which forced him to undergo hospital treatment, appeared in court and remained quiet during the proceedings. Twice he has suddenly gone berserk at county jail, attacking fellow prisoners. A psychiatrist from Norwalk insane asylum and one from Los Angeles were asked to give Calhoun a sanity hearing before his next appearance in court where the district attorney will file information against him.

AFL Seeks Merger Of Union Groups

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(UP)—The American Federation of Labor today asked its sailor members on the Atlantic, Gulf and Great Lakes shores to approve a merger with the independent Sailors' Union of the Pacific to compete with the National Maritime Union for supremacy on the waterfronts.

President William Green announced plans for the new union, which he said would have a nucleus of 25,000 members, and predicted its size would double within a year if the membership approves the merger.

POLICEWOMAN-MATRON TESTS TO BE CONDUCTED ON AUG. 25

To fill a vacancy now being filled by a provisional appointee, the Santa Ana Civil Service Board will conduct an examination for the position of policewoman-matron, Thursday, Aug. 25, it was announced today by Phil M. Brown, secretary of the board.

Carrying a salary of $104.50 per month the classification asks of applicants a year's experience in social welfare investigation or some satisfactory substitute experience. Other requirements are that applicants be between 21 and 31 years of age, bona fide residents and electors, and possess a valid driver's license. A high school education is demanded.

Broad Experience
"The board feels that this experience qualification should be interpreted broadly," Brown said. "It is possible that a mother who has had children, or a former leader of a girl's club or Girl Scout troop, or a worker for a church or charity group, would have had sufficient experience to qualify them for this job, provided they can pass the examination which will deal with the penal code, the juvenile court laws, some first aid, and the organizations dealing with juvenile protection and domestic relations. Our advice to those who are doubtful about their experience is to file an application."

"The board will pass on the experience before the applicant is allowed to take the examination."

Duties Outlined
Applications will be accepted at Room 103, City Hall, until Saturday noon, August 20. Brown said that the Civil Service Board was anxious to get as many applications as possible, feeling that this would give more chance for the selection of a suitable policewoman through the process of a written and oral examination.

Duties of a policewoman include the care of women prisoners, the settlement of family squabbles, working with the Parent-Teacher associations and other groups, caring for juvenile cases in cooperation with police officers, and some secretarial assistance in police headquarters. Touch typing and shorthand are not required of applicants, although the policewoman is expected to be able to type her own reports when necessary.

Cal-Juices Names Superintendent

Directors of the Cal-Juices incorporated, orange by-product plant at Anaheim today accepted the resignation of Guy Baker as plant superintendent and announced the appointment of Henry Stephens, of Orange, as his successor.

Stephens has been manager of the Santa Barbara Citrus Juice plant in Orange and formerly was president of the Stephens Packing company of Orange and Ontario.

"We are highly pleased to be able to secure the services of a man of Stephens' experience and background in the industry," Ed Hackley, president of the board, said today.

Other appointments made by the directors included that of Charles Simons as chief chemist and S. A. Hildebrand, as the new office manager.

Unusual Coin Display Attracts Hundreds In S. A.

The dollar display in one of the R. A. Tiernan typewriter company windows at 110 West Fourth street, Santa Ana, today was attracting many comments from shoppers.

The coin collections of one Steele prominent Santa Ana barber and S. M. Koepfel, Los Angeles numismatist, are being shown there.

The collections include gold coins from all over the world, pieces of eight, the earliest minted dollars of U. S. made in 1794, the peace dollar of 1921, which is still in use today, and many of the oldest paper dollars issued, including the large $1 greenback of the 1927 era.

The collection makes a path through the history of the United States from shortly after the revolutionary days, through the Civil war, Spanish-American war and the many other historic events of this country.

The two men, Steele and Koepfel, are considered two of the leading coin collectors in Southern California. Koepfel is a dealer, while Steele is a collector and does not sell his coins. The collection on display is considered one of the finest and best preserved group in Southern California.

WCTU PREPARES FOR PROHIBITION DRIVE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—(UP)—A militant temperance advance against the liquor traffic in 1939, was predicted today by leaders of the Women's Christian Temperance Union who are here for the 44th annual convention of the anti-liquor organization.

Veteran wearers of the white ribbon were aligned with hundreds of young persons in a stand to make next year, which is the centenary of the birth of Frances E. Willard, famed temperance leader, a banner one in the drive to return prohibition to America and halt the liquor trade. Of the 895 new anti-alcohol groups formed the past year, 597 of them are youth groups.

In the keynote speech of the convention, Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, national president, blamed five years of repeal for an unprecedented growth of immorality, vice, venereal disease and gambling.

"The record of the liquor traffic in the five years since repeal," Mrs. Smith said, "is already becoming a matter of concern to millions of American citizens heretofore indifferent to the problem."

"Today we face spreading economic unrest and social discontent growing out of the unhappy experience of millions of homes which have suffered from years of depression and privation. An increasing factor in this nationwide problem is the liquor traffic, extending its influence through more than 400,000 retail sales places."

TOO MANY RELATIVES
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Fourteen of her husband's relatives lived in the McIntyre's four-room house. This was too much for Mrs. Hattie M. McIntyre, she said today when she filed suit for divorce.

Mrs. McIntyre set forth that although she and George McIntyre had been married for nine years, they had only about two years together without the "in-laws."

Tear Gas Used To Quell Riot

FLORENCE, Ariz., Aug. 5.—(UP)—Warden John C. Eager reported a "tense situation" at the Arizona state prison today after a national guardsman fired a tear gas bomb into a group of 40 convicts who failed to obey an order to disperse yesterday.

The tear gas quickly scattered the convicts who had been "hooting and jeering" the guards on the walls, it was reported.

Warden Eager said the action was intended to show the inmates that the guardsmen, sent to the prison recently by Gov. R. C. Stanford to prevent escapes, mean business.

Fresno Man Ends Life With Gas
FRESNO, Cal., Aug. 5.—(UP)—Unsuccessful in an attempted suicide less than two weeks ago, Peter Bantaa, 65, of Fresno, ended his life with carbon monoxide gas today, police reported.

Bantaa's body was found in his automobile parked in a garage at his home. Nine days ago his family rescued him from a similar attempt at death, investigating officers said.

Locking himself in the garage, Bantaa ran a garden hose from the exhaust to the interior of the car and started the motor. Several hours later passersby heard the car in operation and called police. Bantaa was found dead.

LATE NEWS OF ORANGE AND VICINITY

CLUB TOLD OF LIFE IN CHINA

ORANGE, Aug. 5.—Albert Steward, botany instructor in Nanking university, and son of V. L. Steward, former city engineer of Santa Ana, was speaker at the Orange Rotary club meeting yesterday, describing the climate, schools and customs of the Chinese of the Nanking district.

Seasons Described

The Nanking University, to which Mr. Steward expects to return in September, is under government supervision. Fall is the finest season, with summers so warm that streets and parks are filled with people sleeping out of doors, he said.

In winter, the speaker said, snow is on the ground for two week intervals and ice occasionally forms on lakes and pools. As houses are inadequately heated, residents suffer greatly with the cold, the speaker related.

Western dress is worn in summer by the greater number of residents of Nanking, children and laborers wearing few or no clothes. When winter comes everyone even foreign residents are glad to don the warm felt shoes and robes of the Chinese he said.

Live In Villages

Eighty-five percent of the 450,000 Chinese live in small villages, said Steward. The speaker stated that while capable of erecting beautiful buildings and temples, the Chinese are very lax in maintaining the buildings in a state of repair, letting them and art treasures into a state of decay.

He told of the introduction of new ideas into China from the Western hemisphere. Young people,

ARRANGE RITES OF
CLAUDE C. YOUNGS

ORANGE, Aug. 5.—Funeral services for Claude C. Youngs, 67, former Orange rancher, who passed away yesterday morning at a San Diego hospital, will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the Gliggley Funeral chapel, with the Rev. Arthur T. Hobson, pastor of the Orange Methodist Episcopal church, officiating. Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery, with Orange Grove lodge No. 293, F. and A. M., in charge.

Mr. Youngs, born in Maxburg, Iowa, had lived in Orange 35 years and in San Marcos for 10 years. He had been ill for two months. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Frances Youngs, and one brother, Carl Youngs, of Fullerton. Capt. Henry C. Meehan of the state highway patrol was his brother-in-law.

Auxiliary Plans
Boy Scout Prizes

ORANGE, Aug. 5.—Prizes will be given to Boy Scouts of Elks troop No. 53 who earn the most merit badges, it was decided last evening when the Mother's auxiliary of the troop met at the home of Mrs. J. W. Moore, 1949 East Palmyra avenue. Mrs. Albert Proffit, president, led a business meeting at which the mothers decided to award prizes to boys of the patrol having the best church and Sunday school attendance. The group met in the beautiful garden of the Moore home. Many rare flowers, including a bed of tiger lilies, were in bloom. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Moore and her committee served sherbet, ice cream, and orange juice. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Alma Kienck.

Publication of Charles Dickens' books has attained a total of 25,000,000 copies. he stated have taken new ideas over faster than they are able to adjust themselves to the changes brought about by acceptance of the ideas.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

The EARTH, SCIENTISTS SAY, ONCE WAS MUCH SMALLER THAN IT IS NOW, AND AT ANOTHER TIME WAS MUCH LARGER THAN IT IS AT THE PRESENT TIME.

DINOSAURS WERE NOT "DINOSAURS" UNTIL MILLIONS OF YEARS AFTER THEY HAD VANISHED FROM THE EARTH! NO HUMANS EXISTED TO NAME THEM.

ANSWER: The correct quotation, taken from Nathaniel Lee's "The Rival Queens, or the Death of Alexander the Great," reads, "When Greeks joined Greeks, then was the tug of war." THE earth added to its original size by drawing into itself wandering nebulous materials, but shrinkage during the cooling process reduced it to its present size.

MAX BOETHIN ELECTED NEW COMMANDER OF LEGION POST

ORANGE, Aug. 5.—Max Boethin was elected commander of Orange American Legion post last night, succeeding Ewald Wegner recently elected commander of the 40 et 8 of Orange county. Boethin, who is with Company I of the National Guard at San Luis Obispo, was sent a telegram of congratulations from the post.

Other officers are as follows: Attorney James B. Tucker of Santa Ana was given the gavel and extended the courtesy of presiding for a brief period. Committee Elected Five members were elected to the executive committee. They were Parker E. Walker, Henry Appel, Fred Waldo, Ewald Weaver and George H. Franzen. Serving with this committee will be the commander, the two vice commanders and the adjutant. Members of the county council and 21st district committees are James R. Ragan, Vernon C. Shippee, George Carlson, with alternates Rex Parks, Irwin Seaton, Bill Williams, Bob Phillips and P. R. Davis.

George H. Franzen was appointed as program chairman for the next meeting when installation ceremonies will be held. Franzen was authorized to secure a Legion dignitary of Southern California to conduct the ceremony.

Discuss Celebration Tentative plans are under way by members of the post for the staging of the Armistice day celebration in Orange. The Orange city council this week allowed $800 toward putting on the event.

Hold Funeral Of Former Resident

ORANGE, Aug. 5.—Last rites for Mrs. Isabella Brady, former Orange resident who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richard Dales, in Southgate, were held yesterday afternoon at the Shannon Funeral chapel, with the Rev. H. F. Soffley, vicar of Trinity Episcopal church, officiating. Mrs. Brady was the widow of Samuel Brady, who passed away in Orange in June, 1937.

Music was provided by Mrs. Myra Armstrong, who sang "Lead Kindly Light" and "Safe In the Arms of Jesus." She accompanied herself. Pallbearers were J. D. Hartog, R. D. Dales, D. B. DeLong, Edward Dales, Everett Henry and Milton Dales. Interment was made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mrs. Brady, a native of Ireland, leaves four daughters, Mrs. Mamie Hawks, Orland; Mrs. Margaret Hartog, Buena Park; Mrs. Richard Dales, Southgate; Mrs. Iva DeLong, Torrance; one son, William Brady, of Hanford; three brothers, Thomas and James Henry, of Ontario, and Will Henry, of Los Angeles.

BOSCH WINS IN CLUB CONTEST

ORANGE, Aug. 5.—Henry Bosch was awarded first place and Karl Glasbrenner second place in the speaking contest at the meeting of the Toastmasters club last night at the Sunshine Broiler. Bosch spoke on "Vocations and Domestic Help" and Glasbrenner on "A Few Constructive Ideas."

Kenneth A. King chose as the topic for his talk "Water, Water, Everywhere," while Tom Clark spoke on "Rackets." Judges were J. E. Donegan, Ralph Hull, Hollis Showalter and Tom Bowen.

James T. Goode presided and the president, Dr. C. M. Baker, served as general critic. Dictionary critic was Jack Morris and Arthur E. Sipheid was timekeeper. Ross Atherton was toastmaster. Guests present were Raymond Hull, Clifford McBird, Raymond McBird and Hollis Showalter.

PERMITS GRANTED
FOR 3 NEW HOMES

ORANGE, Aug. 5.—Indicative of renewed building activities in the city were the three permits taken out at the office of the building inspector, Frank Dale, at the city hall yesterday. The largest permit for $6000 was issued to C. F. Rowell, who will build a duplex at 813-815 East Chapman avenue.

A residence and garage will be built by H. W. Nutt, 267 North Center street, at a cost of $2800. Mrs. Edna McDonald took out a permit for the erection of a home at 605 East Maple avenue.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, Aug. 5.—Everett Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Nichols, who has been in St. Joseph hospital, where he was treated for an injured shoulder, is making a satisfactory recovery. The youth fell from his bicycle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Witt, West Orange, are spending a pleasant vacation at Toulumne Meadows in the northern part of the state. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Foote, of Pasadena, are vacationing in Carlsbad and will return via Orange Sunday. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Knaak all day Sunday.

VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, Aug. 5.—Will Holditch and John Holditch of Palm Springs have left by rail for an extended tour of the United States and Canada. Their itinerary includes San Francisco, then east to Chicago and Toronto. They will spend some time visiting in Ontario and will visit their old home at Sturgeon Falls, during their absence Mrs. John Holditch and Miss Gwendolyn Holditch will stay at Laguna Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Getchell have moved to Long Beach, where they will be stationed until Mr. Getchell is transferred. Mrs. Getchell will be remembered as Miss Ruth Caldwell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reish and son, John Jr., are vacationing this week at Ray Shore Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reish and son, Dick, joined them one evening for a swim and a picnic supper.

Miss Gwendolyn Holditch of Palm Springs spent the month of July with her aunt, Miss Margaret Holditch.

her grandmother, Mrs. Annie Caldwell. Miss Mildred Gliggley of Vista, is staying with Mrs. Annie Caldwell.

Miss Stella Ward is spending the month of August with Mrs. Charles O. Thomson. Miss Ward, a teacher in the Auburn schools, spends a part of each vacation with Mrs. Thomson.

Everett Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Nichols, who underwent an operation at St. Joseph hospital, is doing nicely.

ARRANGE FUNERAL SERVICE

ORANGE, Aug. 5.—Members of Orange Grove lodge No. 234, F. and A. M., are requested to meet at the Masonic temple Saturday at 2 p. m. for the purpose of attending the funeral of a late member of the lodge, Thomas S. Green, which is to be held at the Gliggley funeral home. Cars are to be parked on Chapman avenue near the funeral home, according to an announcement made by H. Z. Adams, secretary.

Sparkplugs can be cleaned efficiently by soaking the core in a solution of 60 per cent household ammonia and 40 per cent water.

Our Children

By Harold Gray

TWELVE YEARS

Girls and boys of twelve often trouble their teachers and parents. At this age some of them begin to shed childhood and take on the beginnings of maturity. They are no longer children and they certainly are not grown up. They present the most astounding moods, the most mystifying behavior, are unaccountable in every way. This makes living with them, and teaching them, a burden and an anxiety.

Hilda is twelve, overgrown, so that she is bigger than any girl in the senior class, while she is still in Junior High. She is pretty and the boys like her. She loves pretty clothes and wears those of the older girls, but she won't have anything to do with the boys, and insists upon playing with dolls, hosts of dolls.

"But, my goodness, you're growing up. You don't want all these dolls any more. Give them away. Grow up."

"I don't want to grow up. Why should I give away my dolls? I love every one of them. I'd much rather play with them than with any of those silly boys and girls."

Just let her alone with the dolls and say no more about them. Help them to disappear by refusing to replace any, by neglecting to discover any that are lost, but be careful not to speak about them one way or the other. This sort of child has not grown out of the child-stage of play, although she has left some of its phases behind her. In time she will leave this one too.

Such children, boys and girls alike, are what we, for a shortcut, call lazy. They do not like to run errands, they hate to pick up after themselves. They leave whatever they have been using right where it fell and go their way. When they need it again they ask where it is and blandly look for one to recover it. Their rooms are a crowd's nest, so are their bureau drawers and their shelves. Leave them that way. The only way to teach them the need for order and care is to let them feel the inconvenience of disorder and confusion.

When such a child leaves his belongings about the living rooms it is right to impound them. When they leave their bedrooms in a mess it is right to leave them that way and have them put them in shape for cleaning. When they delay the family by forgetting to dress, because they wanted to see the funnies, because they wanted to play with Rover, either force them along on time, or leave them home and go without them. Leaving them home is the cure if it can be done without punishing innocent ones.

Always be patient and long suffering with them while you administer medicine for their souls. They are in an unhappy plight, and they cannot help themselves very much. But keep training them, keep letting experience teach them, and they will come through. We were all of us twelve year olds once, and we ought to remember something of how it felt.

Mr. Patri has prepared a leaflet entitled, "A Book List," giving the titles of a wide variety of books all children should read. Send for it, addressing your request to Mr. Angelo Patri, Child Psychology Department of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed stamped (8-cent) envelope.

A Combination You Can't Beat!

JERRY HALL TIRE SERVICE FISK TIRES

For forty years the little Fisk Boy has been a symbol of QUALITY TIRES—representing a leader; pioneering for the better service and safety of mankind. Since 1898 Fisk has surely, consistently blazed the trail toward safer, more economical motor transportation. That this assertion is no idle claim is proven by the hundreds of United States Patents granted to or owned by Fisk; each representing a distinct improvement in materials, methods or design. The latest and perhaps the greatest Fisk Tire innovation is a combination of new Patented manufacturing processes which definitely give today's motorist—AMERICA'S SAFEST TIRE—the new FISK SAFTI-FLIGHT.

FREE ICE CREAM

One Quart of Excelsior Betty Jane Ice Cream or Sherbet given free to each customer making a purchase of 50c or more Friday and Saturday, August 5th and 6th.

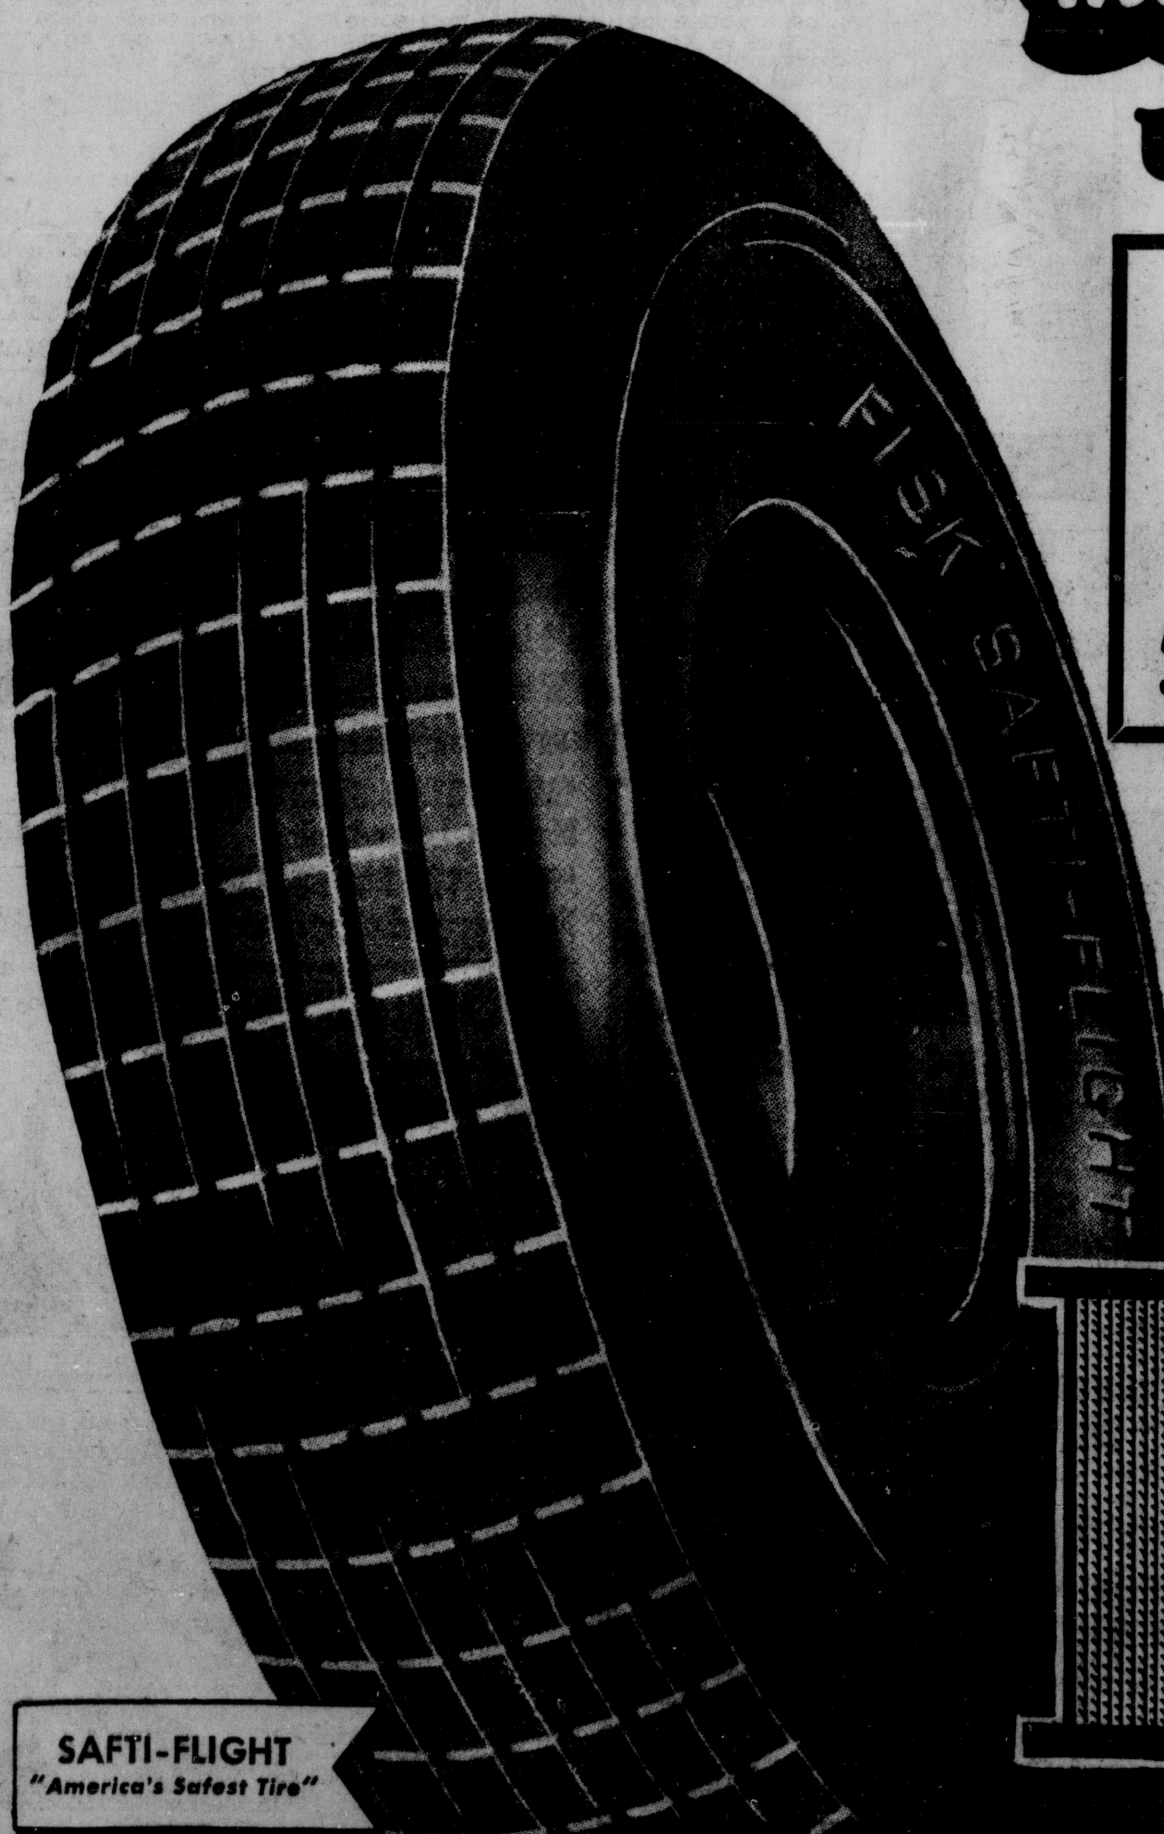

Twenty years of experience in the tire industry qualifies Jerry Hall, prominent Santa Ana tire dealer, to heartily endorse as "America's Safest Tire," the new Fisk Safti-Flight tire. To bring to the attention of the buying public his recent appointment as Fisk distributor in Santa Ana and surrounding territory, Hall today opened a huge eight-day sale at his super service station at 118 North Main street, shown in the picture above. In addition to bargains in the tire department, Hall is making corresponding price attractions in every branch of his service.

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, August 5.—Jimmie Fidler, with theatres starving for business, stars who really "want to be alone" might try going on personal appearance tours. Hollywoodites: the paving hurled by the mob in "If I Were King" were actually loaves of bread. Priscilla Lane is a deep-breathing addict—and practices during every lull in the conversation. List Humphrey Bogart as Filmville's champion viewer-with-alarm.

Best off-screen comedy of the week: Bob Burn's imitation of a wife telling her husband how to drive the family car. How can anyone, in the same second, look as coldly aristocratic—and as warmly inviting—as Hedy Lamarr? Getting personal: Simone Simon should either preet her nose or quit sunbathing—she's becoming a feminine version of W. C. Fields. Wonder if Ginger Rogers' inexhaustible pep is the result of her vegetarian diet?

Those jeweled dog collars that Paulette Goddard wears around her wrists must be just an affection—she is not in the dog-house. No love lost: Ray Milland and Dorothy Lamour. People who argue that Robert Taylor is a poor actor will be surprised by his swell performance in "The Crowd Roars." Today's philosophy—from Cary Grant: Too many actors who know what they want don't know how to get rid of it when they have it.

One of Hollywood's most-publicized—and least known—men is a chap named Sandler who handles "props" for Samuel Goldwyn productions. Seventeen years ago Sandler persuaded the director of "Little Annie Rooney" to erect a sign over a store front used in that picture, proclaiming it "Sandler's Emporium." Seeing his name on the screen for the first time, he felt such a thrill of pride that he determined to have an encore. And he has—fifty-one of them to be exact. In every picture that he has worked on, he has managed to insert a sign, a label or a headline containing his name. His last as-

DESIRE FOR CIVIC BETTERMENT FOUNDATION OF S. A. COUNCIL

Organization of the Public Affairs Council of Santa Ana, which will meet at 7:30 p. m. today in the Y.M.C.A. was the direct outgrowth of informal meetings at various intervals of several Orange county citizens.

This was the statement today from R. B. Newcom, one of the founders, in providing a background of the group. The meetings of the citizens began last spring, Newcom explained, "and were held to quietly discuss various questions of a civic nature. As a result of the several meetings, and recognizing the potentialities in an intelligent discussion of common problems, it was decided to develop an organization to further the study of current problems of civic, political and economic nature. Thus was born what is now known as the public affairs council of Santa Ana.

Strictly Impartial

"This public affairs council is now regularly formed, with officers duly elected—consisting of a president, vice president, secretary-treasurer, and six others, all of which constitute the board of governors. Some 50 men today have interested themselves in the movement.

"Quoting from the constitution—Article II defines the 'object' of the organization—'The object and purpose of this council shall be to investigate and discuss the problems affecting the welfare of the commonwealth, to aid in their solution, to disseminate any findings, and to maintain an impartial position as an open forum in the study and discussion of these problems.'

The board of governors meet monthly on the Monday preceding the first Friday of each month. The council meetings are at 7:30 p. m. on the first and third Fridays of each month.

Seeks Understanding

There will be a meeting today at the Y. M. C. A.; and any one interested in matters of this nature is indeed welcome to attend. The meeting, this week, will be led by a short talk by Senator Harry Westover outlining the methods and routine of procedure in our state legislature. This talk is for the purpose of creating a background of better understanding for the studies to follow later. The second meeting in August will be led by Homer Chaney, and the first September meeting by Wilfred Taylor, both gentlemen talking on certain in-

Devine Fun

When swimmers at California's Arrowhead Springs mountain resort heard gravel-throated sounds of merriment, they knew Andy Devine was around. Sure enough the radio and film comedian and his 4-year-old son Tad were having themselves a splashing good time, as shown above.

Initiative and referendum measures which will appear on the November ballots.

"The board of governors feels that, with some 30 or 40 initiative measures to appear on the ballots this fall, it is absolutely necessary that intensive, intelligent study be made of all such measures in order that we can really fulfill our duties as citizens when we step in to the ballot booth next November.

J. C. TO STRESS CAREER WORK

When classes convene in September at Santa Ana Junior college, the commerce department will have added a new course which promises to meet with approval by secretarial students, according to Director D. K. Hammond.

The latest addition to the commerce curricula will serve as a finishing course for advanced secretarial students who have completed their technical training. An attempt will be made to approximate practical experience in secretarial work, Director Hammond said.

Practical Atmosphere

Actual office conditions will be used in an effort to give the students typical office surroundings. Exact details of the course will be worked out by the new instructor, Miss Alice Smith.

Miss Smith, who has just been secured by the college to plan this new course, has had much experience in commercial work. George B. Holmes, head of the department, announced. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, college scholastic society. She received her bachelor of arts degree at Stanford university and attended the University of Southern California last year. She is now working on her masters degree.

Actual Experience

According to Holmes, the course will be offered for two units of college credit. Holmes explained that employers usually want secretarial workers who have had some actual office experience. The nearest approach to this will be attempted by this new course, he said.

The class will be offered for the first time during the first semester. The commerce department faculty will consist of Holmes, Harry P. Jackson, and the Misses Genevieve Humiston, Dorothy Decker and Smith.

Freshman Days are scheduled for September 6, 7, and 8 on the college campus when new students will be acquainted with the various functions of the jaysce.

AIR-CONDITIONING COOLING TO DISPOSITION, SAYS TUSTINITE

What will a native of Dallas, Tex., turned Californian, do on hot days like this? He'll reminisce.

That's what W. P. Davis, Tustinite, is doing now that he has just returned from a visit to his native city—grown to a population of 300,000. And he'll tell you how to keep cool though the thermometer outside says, "105 Fahrenheit."

He'll say: 1. Get air-cooled ventilation. 2. Watch Dallas. 3. And I'm not advertising or selling for cooling system manufacturers.

Shoppers Cool Off

He quotes from the Dallas Times-Herald. "Dallas business men realize the shopper goes where the comfort is greatest in hot weather. Perhaps that's the reason Dallas ranks third in the nation so far this year in tonnage of refrigeration and air-conditioning installed."

"Since air-conditioning was born a few years ago, there has been $4,800,000 worth installed in Dallas, according to an estimate of Glenn N. Kelm, business manager for the Associated School of Air-Conditioning. There are between 2,500 and 3,000 persons in Dallas whose jobs are dependent on air-conditioning."

Two Texas Cities Lead

Only two cities in the nation, Philadelphia and Houston, exceed Dallas in tonnage of air-conditioning equipment installed during the first four months of the year, the newspaper stated.

Davis said one of his greatest pleasures while visiting at the "old home town" was a walk through some of the Dallas stores, front to back, "to cool off between blocks."

Plan Article On Area Development

Officials of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce today were preparing a 5,000 word article on the history and development of Santa Ana and surrounding territory to be published by the Bainbridge Publications company in an "Official Tourist Guide of Southern California."

Included in the article are facts and statistics concerning the city and county as well as various points of historical significance and tourist interest.

Miss Muriel Matzen, is preparing the article.

Y.M.C.A. Gets New Interior Surface

A general house-cleaning and renovating was in progress at the Santa Ana Y.M.C.A. today under the direction of D. G. Tibbals, assistant "Y" secretary.

Calming and painting of the east lobby of the building has just been completed, with the help of janitors and men living in the building. Refinishing of all locker room floors and room floors will be next on the program, Tibbals announced. The process is an annual affair at the "Y" and is done in anticipation of the increased use of "Y" facilities during the school months, when Santa Ana junior college students and thousands of other boys and girls in Santa Ana take advantage of winter recreation there.

DR. FREEMAN WILL BE SUNDAY GUEST

The Rev. Dr. Robert Freeman, Litt. D., will be guest speaker at the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana at 10:45 a. m. Sunday in the absence of the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, minister of the church, it was announced today.

Dr. Freeman, who has been for the past 25 years minister of the First Presbyterian church of Pasadena, one of the most prominent Presbyterian churches of the west, is well known to many in this part of the state. He is also well known as an author and poet.

On Board of Missions

Dr. Freeman, because of his splendid capabilities as a churchman, has held many high offices in the Presbyterian denomination, including that of moderator of the Synod of California and a member of the board of national missions, which office he now holds.

His visit to Santa Ana will be greeted with much enthusiasm.

Begin Production Of Orange Juice

Production of canned orange juice is under way at the Cal-Juices plant in Anaheim, Superintendent Guy Baker announced today. The juice canning department starts with an initial daily production of 2000 gallons and will step this up as the demand increases.

The plant opened July 15 and production efforts have been confined to turning out concentrate, oils and dairy feed. Concentrate production has averaged 20 barrels daily and the feed, made from the orange pulp and skin, has averaged 50 bags daily.

The plant is operating with two full crews at this time and will continue until the end of the present Valencia season. While each shift is on a 12-hour basis the men actually work but 10 hours on production, allowing the additional two hours for cleaning and sterilizing all equipment.

and keen anticipation, church leaders said. Dr. Freeman's sermon subject will be, "The Way of a Ship in the Sea."

Suitcase Placecards
Suggest Varied
Interests Of Guests

Suggestive of the schools of communities in which many of the party guests plan to spend next year were suitcase placecards which Miss Llewellyn Allen used yesterday to appoint tables in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Allen, Main street, Tustin.

Since Miss Allen will enter Pomona college as a senior in the fall, her placecard bore a Claremont college sticker. Dessert was served at tables centered with pink and white flowers. Mrs. Allen assisted her daughter in entertaining.

There were attractive prizes for the two high scorers in bridge. Miss Eloise Walker and Miss Margaret Peacock.

Miss Allen's guests were the Misses Charlotte Mock, Dora Lloyd, Polly Angne, Frances Was, Marie Fitcher, Velma Kuechel, Margaret Peacock, Jean Reuter, Beverly Bennett, Helen Marshall, Eloise Walker, Mary Kettler, Malinda Walker and Mesdames Dan Bosch and Elmer Curry.

Miss Klatt Receives
At Informal Affair

Guests were the Misses Leola Schroeder, Betty Jane Moore, Barbara Davis, Roberta Tuthill, Janet Diehl, Jean Reuter, Florence Liggett and Valerie Demetriou.

Miss Moore and Miss Davis held the two highest scores in bridge play, which was followed by the serving of refreshments.

Miss Klatt has gone to Balboa for a vacation stay with her parents, who have a home at the beach.

Successive Luncheons Staged Pleasantly
In Bruns Home

For the past two days the attractive G. E. Bruns home at 1205 Spurgeon street has been given over to hospitality as Mrs. Bruns entertained successive groups of friends at luncheon.

In issuing invitations to these pleasant affairs, the hostess suggested that her guests were to "rest, chat and sew" as their afternoon diversion. This program was put into effect in an atmosphere conducive to friendliness, for there were so many flowers placed about the airy big rooms, that they created a garden effect.

Many of these blossoms were sent by friends, including Mrs. Terry Stephenson, Mrs. Paul Bailey, Mrs. W. D. Finn, Mrs. Roy Seaver and Mrs. E. B. Newcom.

Mrs. Richard Cribaro, daughter of the hostess, provided many others, and the great clusters of Guinea Gold marigolds which blazed in the dining room, were the gift of a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Plummer Bruns.

On Wednesday when the first of the duo of parties was held, Mrs. Cribaro and Mrs. Seaver assumed responsibility for serving the delicious luncheon menu for which small tables were grouped in friendly proximity to the large dining table. Mrs. Cribaro lent the same aid again yesterday.

Climax to each afternoon's program of needlework and chat was provided when the hostess drew numbered slips from a piece of helium china held aloft by Mrs. Cribaro. Guests had discovered that their place cards were numbered, and corresponding numbers had been placed in the china bowl. Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. L. L. Whitson held the winning card and received a dainty handkerchief.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Theo. A. Winblier won a pair of graceful pottery bud vases, and a pretty linen handkerchief fell to the lot of Mrs. O. H. Barr. They were members of the larger guest list, which included also Mesdames Holmes Bishop, Joseph H. Metzgar, E. B. Sprague, R. B. Newcom, Emory D. White, Terry E. Stephenson, Frank Henderson, Earl Morrow, Clarence Nissman, Clarence Crookshank, Miss Lida Crookshank, Mesdames Mark Lacy, J. E. Gowen, Curtis Jordan of Long Beach, Clarence Bond, C. C. Fuller, George Munro, Roy Seaver, Harvey Gardner, John Wehry, Arthur Lyon, Susan Rutherford and Richard Cribaro.

Yesterday's guest group included with Mrs. Whitson, the prize-winner, and Mrs. Cribaro, daughter of the hostess, Mesdames Roscoe Wilson, Dana Smith, W. D. Finn, A. M. Gardner, Paul Bailey, Fred P. Jayne, B. Utley, F. W. Wiesseman, Jennie Peck and Charles Carothers.

INFORMAL AFFAIR

Mrs. Leonard Eyerly was luncheon hostess to an intimate little group Tuesday afternoon in her home, 443 North Garvey street. Asters and maidenhair fern centered the table, which was set with pottery.

While chatting during the afternoon, some of the group knitted. In the party with the hostess were Mrs. J. W. Eyerly of Santa Ana and Mrs. Thomas Douran, Monrovia; Mrs. Ernest Stevens, Azusa; Mrs. Alice Gilmer, Duarte; and Mrs. Kate Prentiss, Hollywood.

DOWN INTO MEXICO

Four weeks' vacationing down in Mexico is being experienced by Mrs. Isabel Lucero, 2026 West Fifth street, who is combining with her pleasure trip, a search for quaint Mexican curios to be used in La Hacienda, the popular little Mexican cafe on West Fifth street.

Puebla, Guadalajara, and other cities en route to Mexico City, where she plans to spend the greater part of the time. During Mrs. Lucero's absence, her duties at La Hacienda are being taken over by her nieces, the Misses Ruth and Carlotta Mirabal, assisting their uncle, Sol Gonzales, brother of Mrs. Lucero.

Legion Auxiliary Officers
Installed By Mrs. Cleary

The installation ceremonies conducted by Mrs. Pauline Cleary, Legion Auxiliary 21st district president, last night placed in office Santa Ana unit's new staff of workers, headed by Mrs. Beulah Duckett as president. Concluding a successful year as president is Mrs. Ann Leimer.

Mrs. Leimer presented an orchid to Mrs. Cleary, who was dressed in a formal costume of black skirt and white satin blouse; and a corsage bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley to Mrs. Duckett, who wore blue taffeta and net. Mrs. Leimer's frock was of black lace.

Conducting installation, Mrs. Cleary had assistance of the drill team, captained by Mrs. Alice Dodder. Installed to serve with Mrs. Duckett were Blanche Roepke and Edith Boudin, first and second vice presidents; Marian Mathews, secretary; Gretchen Kellogg, treasurer; Fannie Reeves, chaplain; Evelyn Imhoff, historian; Lucille Sullivan, sergeant-at-arms; Ruth Anderson, marshal; Tona Sandon, Grace Lepper and Frances Jones, executive board.

Mrs. Sandon presented Mrs. Leimer with a past president's pin. The retiring president conducted the meeting during which delegates were elected to department convention to be held September 16-17 in Santa Monica. In the group are Mrs. Beulah Duckett, Ann Leimer, Tona Sandon, Maria Mathews, Harriet Mitchell, Mabel Gowdy, delegates; Blanche Roepke, Edith Boudin, Frances Jones, Lucille Sullivan, Josephine Lykke and Metta Nielsen, alternates.

Several officers gave their annual reports. Mrs. Harriet Mitchell, child welfare chairman, announced that clothing and food valued at $551.05 had been given to 190 children in 48 families during the past year. The sum expended for Christmas work was $140, it was announced.

Guests included Mrs. Ruth O'Malia, president of Ernest Kellogg auxiliary V. F. W., who presented a bouquet to Mrs. Duckett; Mrs. Cleary, the installing officer; Mrs. Harriet Boyd of Anaheim, 21st district publicity chairman; Nella Norton, Newport Beach, district child welfare chairman; Catherine Allen, Huntington Beach, district Americanism chairman; Lillian Thorpe of Santa Ana, 21st district sergeant-at-arms; Jean Geddis, president of Anaheim unit; May Hall, president of Garden Grove unit.

LUNCHEON AND BRIDGE

Bridge club members assembled for one of their weekly sessions Wednesday afternoon when Miss Betty Jane Moore was hostess in her home on Tustin avenue.

Pinkphlox centered the table at which luncheon was served to precede card play. Scoring first and second high were Miss Jean Munro and Miss Virginia Curry. Others present were the Misses Margaret Munro, Patricia Jordan, Florence Liggett, Jeanette Klatt and Barbara Davis, with the hostess.

New President

Mrs. Smith D. Duckett, 2009 South Ross street, became Legion Auxiliary president last night. Already she is planning to attend Auxiliary state convention at Santa Monica in mid-September, as well as sessions of the national convocation September 18-23 in Los Angeles. She has been a member of the local unit for seven years.

Santa Anas Conclude Interesting Outing

Four weeks of summer travels just completed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Norton, 621 East Myrtle street, were shared also by Mrs. Norton's sister, Mrs. George Phillips of Sacramento, who left for her home yesterday after making the complete trip with them.

Bryce Canyon, the Yellowstone, Zion and Glacier National parks were included on the itinerary, each place offering new beauty and grandeur to the travelers. They continued the trip to Banff and Lake Louise but were informed that the prevalent forest fires would make it impossible to see the wonderful Canadian lake.

However the night of their arrival, heavy rains fell, the fires were extinguished and they were able to see the lake as usual.

In the Canadian Rockies, their way led through great banks of snow, with snow-capped peaks on every side. The travelers declared that nothing could equal the majesty and grandeur of the Grand Tetons. On their return journey, they visited Crater Lake and the Redwoods. At no point did the Nortons find the weather uncomfortably hot. When they took their departure, driving across the desert to Las Vegas, they found that carloads of dry ice made their journey as pleasant as in cool weather, giving all the effect of an air-conditioned car.

Luncheon Guests Seek Beach Gayeties At Corona Del Mar

Those attractive sub-debs of the city's social set, who have had such a gay summer of parties added another merry event to their list yesterday when Miss Marjorie Wall staged a luncheon at Swanson's in advance of a carefully planned beach party.

Miss Wall, who is the daughter of the E. W. Walls, 1238 So. Birch street, had her mother's assistance in party plans, especially in receiving guests for the luncheon hour and in arranging conveyance to the seaside at Corona Del Mar. Asters and other bright blossoms in white and pink graced the tables where the young people enjoyed the menu planned by their hostess.

There are several charming girls spending the summer in the city, and they have been on similar pretty affairs. They included Miss Betty LeBlanc of Minneapolis, who is a guest in the home of Mrs. Helen Cappelen; Miss Barbara May of Alexandria, Ind., making an extended visit in the home of Mrs. Jessie Dick, and Miss Suzanne Thompson of Waco, Texas, here with her uncle and aunt, the Clarence Nissans.

Others on Miss Wall's party list were the Misses Nancy Cappelen, Marilyn Dick, Irma Jean May, Betty Lacy, Vivian Hazen, Carolyn Wells, Jean Downs, Peggy Hallows, Patsy Miller, Barbara Tucker, Harriet Spicer, Ann Bell, Jane Hollis, Doris Cox, Betty Hays, Jackie Bradford, Louise Hoffman, Alice McKee, Eileen Faber, Alice Claire McFarland and Virginia Bruns.

Church Societies

United Presbyterian
Prefacing a busy afternoon with luncheon served at noon in the dining room of United Presbyterian church, members of the Women's Missionary society of that church enjoyed the friendly plans of four hostesses, Mesdames T. J. Warren, John McFadden, Anna Nelson and Eleanor Fish. Many flowers in bright colors were used with maidenhair fern to make the tables attractive for the affair.

Mrs. Cora Torrens, president, was in charge of the afternoon business session which opened with devotionals conducted by Mrs. J. D. Rinar, Mrs. W. W. Hoy was presented as chief speaker, and told of the Women's Presbyterial held this summer in New Wilmington, Penna.

Santa Ana members felt highly honored that one of their number should have been selected as a representative of the Los Angeles Presbytery, with the appointment of Mrs. Hoy as delegate. She is a pleasing speaker, and gave a clear and concise picture of the convocation to her audience. She will visit each Missionary society in the Los Angeles Presbytery, and gave her report.

Among other business matters, the General society recommended that each unit express commendation to Will Hays for his work in achieving better and cleaner motion pictures.

The local society members expressed cordial welcome to Mrs. Magill, a sister of their pastor, Dr. A. E. Kelly.

sey, John Van Dyke, Jack Rimel, Robert U. Smith, Wayne Bartholomew, Douglass Ferry and Miss Lucille Howell.

Mrs. Smith held high score in card play, which was followed by the serving of refreshments.

Clever Motif Prevails
At Breakfast Given
At Country Club

All the informal charm of mid-summer plus the refreshing setting afforded by Santa Ana Country club and a bower of flowers marked the breakfast given yesterday by Mrs. George Walker and Mrs. Harold Dale.

Evidencing her interest in the affair, Mrs. A. G. Flagg did the decorating in the lounge, where many colorful flowers were arranged. An especially pretty basket of gladioluses was the thoughtful provision of Mrs. Henry Williams, whose garden flowers have brightened many a party setting.

With their cool frocks the two hostesses wore corsage bouquets of roses provided by Mrs. Robert Gould.

Quite modernistic in appearance were the solarium breakfast tables, with their perky little centerpieces in green and orange rising from a nest of shiny greenery. Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Dale had evolved the clever decorative plans themselves, arranging their centerpieces to carry out an interesting theme first suggested in the unusual placard tallies. These were of red, blue, green or yellow art paper with amusing drawings of dogs, horses or other animals.

The new method of scoring was applied in checking bridge scores, with the result that Mrs. Quentin Matzen and Mrs. Burt Zaiser were winners of prizes for first and second high scores.

Invited to share the hospitality of Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Dale were Mesdames Albert Harvey, Clarence Ranney, William Taylor Stearns, E. D. White, Robert Gould, M. B. Wellington, Crawford Nalle, Margaret Barnes, Claude Brakebill, Stanton Anderson, Nan Dale, L. G. Swales, Robert Miller, Alvin Stauffer, Sara Johnston Haddon, Edward Walker, Frank Curran Jr., C. V. Davis, E. T. McFadden, Henry Williams, Thoburn White, Quentin Matzen, Ray Tarr, Stanley Norton, Burt Zaiser, Don Harwood, Thomas Geoghegan Jr., Mesdames Leland Flaley, George Spielman, Russell Wilson, Edgar Elfstrom, Herbert Stroschein, Raymond Terry, Roy Langley, Edwin Holmes, John Newman, Lyman Farwell, Harry Huffman, Edward Hall, Wayne Harrison, Frederick Elliott, Dale Jordan, Edmund West, Charles McDaniel Jr., Thomas Rhone, John Scripps, Glenn Mathis and the Misses Mary Saffley, Dorothy Forgy and Elizabeth Smith.

You and Your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hill, 1618 Spurgeon street, have as houseguests, Mrs. Hill's mother and sister, Mrs. J. F. Moody and Miss Maude Moody of Glendale, who are here for a few weeks.

Miss Muriel Matzen, 2425 Riverside Drive, and Miss Helen Wiesseman, 527 West Nineteenth street, plan to leave Monday for Lake Tahoe for a week's stay. Miss Matzen will begin a two weeks' vacation from her duties in the Chamber of Commerce office Monday. Miss Wiesseman is a teacher in the city schools.

Miss Grace Heaney, 701 Cypress avenue, leaves today for San Francisco, where she will spend two weeks with her aunt, Mrs. E. T. McLaughlin.

Miss Janet Hollingsworth, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Hollingsworth, 2442 Riverside Drive, returned Tuesday from Salt Lake City where she spent two weeks as a guest in the home of former

Children Are Invited
For Birthday Joys

Little Patricia McMillen's third birthday anniversary was made a gala occasion by her mother, Mrs. Albert C. McMillen, who invited a group of friends to share a happy party in the gardens of her home, 317 East Bishop street.

Flowers in wide variety were sent by interested friends to add to the party atmosphere. Many games and the nursery equipment and toys entertained the children. Patricia's father had made her a pretty red tea-party table, and it was there that refreshments were served. Its cover was matched by plates, cups and napkins, to the pleasure of childish hearts. Ice cream was accompanied by individual birthday cakes, each one with flower being inscribed with the name of the child for whom it was intended.

Patricia's big birthday cake had three candles amidst its pretty decorations, and after she had blown them out, they were relighted for the other children to extinguish. Amusing little airplanes fashioned from candies, were favors, and there were gay balloons released from the chandelier, to be grasped by eager child hands.

Many intriguing packages to be opened by the little birthday hostess, made a happy interval for her and her friends who were Gail Elliott of Huntington Beach; Merlyn and Vernon McWaters of Los Angeles; Donna Lee and Lora Lee Hare, Patty Lee Coon and Julia Kay Rhinard of this city. With them were their mothers, to share Mrs. McMillen's hospitality. They were Mesdames Charles Elliott Jr., G. T. McWaters, Mark Hare and Leland Coon, with a very special guest in the person of Patricia's tiny six-weeks-old sister Lorraine, making her social debut at her "big" sister's birthday party.

ILLINOIS VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rogers, 511 South Van Ness avenue, had as guests early this week, Mr. Rogers' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. George Swanke of Berwyn, Ill., who concluded their visit yesterday.

The Santa Anas and their daughter and son, Miss Carolyn Rogers and Ross Miller, entertained their visitors at a farewell dinner Wednesday evening in their home. Completing the party was Mrs. Alberta M. Shields, in whose home at 811 Orange avenue, the Illinois residents spent some of the time. Mrs. Shields is a sister of the Messrs. Rogers.

Miss Carolyn Rogers accompanied Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers and the Swankes to Catalina on Tuesday.

Santa Anas, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Beckstrand and daughter, June.

George and Jack Lincoln, sons of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lincoln, 1207 Orange avenue, are spending a week in Laguna Beach with their grandmother, Mrs. Mary Wilbur.

Dr. and Mrs. Dean C. Brown and their young daughter Paulina, and the relatives who share their home, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Erickson, are no unpleasantly settled in the home at 2429 Poinsettia street, to which they recently moved from 1501 North Main street.

Youthful Matron Has Girlhood Friends
For Luncheon

Continuing that series of gay parties which she introduced so shortly after her early summer marriage, Mrs. Frederick Pinkston (Betty West) yesterday was luncheon hostess in her home, 1318 North Broadway.

Again did her bridal treasures of linens, silver, crystal and china excite admiration of her friends, as they graced the attractively arranged luncheon table where Transvaal daisies harmonized with the many flowers arranged about the home. Mrs. Z. Bertrand West assisted her daughter in serving the inviting luncheon menu.

Place cards indicated partnerships and tables for the afternoon bridge play, in which quaint Italian pottery gifts were won by Miss Beth Emison and Miss Roberta Tuthill.

It was a particularly interesting afternoon in view of the fact that the guests will begin to scatter at such an early date as many of them return to college and university studies.

Mrs. Pinkston included on her guest list the Misses Jean Munro, Margaret Munro, Beth Emison, Mary Tuthill, Betty Moellenthin, Patty Rapp, Martha Tuthill, Roberta Tuthill, Audrey Sattler, Bettie Timmons, Katherine Eklund, Gloria Kirchner, Marian Baxter, Nancy White and Eleanor Cogan.

Church Societies

Associated Women
Women of First Methodist church met Wednesday morning in the church social hall to begin a day of activity which included interesting meetings of three organizations.

Mrs. H. W. Guthrie conducted the opening meeting of Women's Home Missionary society. Mrs. Horton Palmer discussed the work which the society is doing for soldiers and sailors. Reports on their recent camp experiences at Idyllwild were given by the Misses Nettie May Barnes, Dorothy Edwards, Vivian Vale and Olive Schweitzer.

Mrs. Clarence Bond conducted a meeting of Associated Women at 11 o'clock. Circle No. 1 announced plans for a cafeteria dinner to be held Wednesday evening, August 17 in the home of Mrs. Bond, 2019 Victoria Drive.

Noon devotionals were conducted by Mrs. C. E. Holman, whose topic was "My Presence Shall Go With Thee." Following luncheon was a meeting of Foreign Missionary society in charge of Mrs. C. E. Lawrence. Mrs. A. J. Rutter sang songs including a group which will be given during the 70th anniversary program of the society in the fall.

"Three Candles Are Lighted," a mite box playlet, was given by Mesdames Dale Hull, F. R. Schweitzer, Richard Howland and C. M. Lane. Miss Olive Schweitzer played a piano solo. Wearing Indian costume, Miss Doris Welles presented the society with the new mite boxes, which are patterned after the lamps of India. Also, she presented the new study book, "Moving Millions," compiled by various mission workers.

Curiously, during the Great Ice Age, when practically all of what much of the United States, was covered by ice, northern Alaska, well within the Arctic Circle, was not overgrown. This probably was due to insufficient snowfall there to build up a glacier.

Built of copper, the roof of Christ Church in Philadelphia, is more than 200 years old and probably the oldest roof in America.

Evening Garden Party Ends With Shower Of Presents

Joining as garden party hostesses Tuesday evening at the Harold Pickering home, 2315 North Bristol street, Mrs. Pickering and Mrs. E. J. Kastorff paid a friendly compliment to Mrs. Kenneth Waite and her happy anticipations.

They had tables placed amidst the garden's flowers and shrubbery for a session of court whist in which prize-winning scores were made by Mrs. Lyle Christenson and Mrs. Soren Sorenson, with consolation award going to Mrs. Leonard Cox and the traveling prize retained by Miss Zanelli Morton.

When tables were re-arranged for the refreshment hour, each was centered with a diminutive bassinet in pink or blue. A delectable sponge cake was base for mounds of ice cream, and was accompanied by crisp little cookies and coffee. This interval was followed by guests seeking the home itself, where Mrs. Waite was led to a big basket, gay in pink and blue, and filled with the dearest of layette gifts.

Mrs. Pickering and Mrs. Kastorff included on their guest list with Mrs. Waite, Mesdames Walter Sorenson, Soren Sorenson, Sophie Hanson, Frank Yetmar, Harold Finnegan, John Hedrick, Reginald Hartley, Charles Randall, Myrtle Preininger, Carl Morton, Marion Stroud, the Misses Zanelli Morton, Barbara Preininger, Velma Stroud, Barbara Pickering, Santa Ana; Mrs. Randolph Williams, San Juan Capistrano; Mrs. Lyle Christenson, Orange; Mrs. Leonard Cox, Tustin, and Mrs. Leonard Chase, Fond du Lac, Wisc., an aunt of Mrs. Waite who is visiting here.

Stanton Jr. and an engaged pair, Miss Laura Blome and Clifford Erickson, all of this community; with Mr. and Mrs. Merle C. Krebs of Compton.

Miss Floretta Harman, who will leave in September for Montrose, Colo., and her wedding to William Breedlove, was presented with bridal gifts Wednesday evening when she was honored at a shower in the home of her mother, Mrs. Earl Harmon, 1004 North Parton street.

Assisting the hostess during the evening were her two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Clyde Harman and Mrs. Bryan Harman and her niece, Mrs. Harrol Hunnicutt, Bryan Harman, Clyde Harman, Vernon Hudson, Harry Coleman, George Ross, Earl Harman and the Misses Edith Armstrong, Wilma Hart, Patricia McClure, Lola Marie Harman, Joyce Simonsen; with the hostess and her bride-elect, daughter.

Miss Harman is a member of the nursing staff at St. Joseph hospital. Her fiancé is a resident of Ophir, Colo., where he will have a home in readiness for his bride.

Mixing Bowl

BY ANN MEREDITH

Strange as it seems, one is apt to become fed up with chilled fruit for breakfast, after a summer of it. When that happens and the first good peaches are ready, serve this combination of toast and peaches with fragrant hot coffee, and put yourself on the back for being clever when you see how your family will enjoy this breakfast dish.

Peach Toast

Choice ripe freestone peaches, peeled and halved

Butter and sugar

1 cup hot water

Thin hot buttered toast

Place the peaches, hollow side up, in a baking dish. Fill hollows with sugar, dot with butter and put an additional cup of sugar with the cup of water around the peaches. Bake them in a fast oven and serve on this buttered toast with some of the hot syrup poured over fruit and toast.

A good recipe and a stamped, addressed envelope are coin of the realm when you write for your copy of the big Calory List...that fascinating 'whatzit' that tells you all about your favorite foods.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Fruit Salad Dessert

18-20 dates, dried

1 red apple, finely diced, not peeled

4 oranges, sections reamed out and diced

3 or 4 tablespoons thick cream.—contributed

Mix the fruits with cream and let stand in refrigerator to chill and thicken. Pile in sherbet glasses to serve. The recipe serves four.

When you are in a hurry, or haven't an orange in the house, try these canned Mandarin oranges (two cans with the juice).

Barbecued Pork Roast

Roast of pork, weighing from 4 to 5 pounds

Mix together:

2 tablespoons flour

1 teaspoon sugar

1 teaspoon dry mustard

1 tablespoon celery salt

1 teaspoon whole cloves

1 teaspoon salt and some pepper

To dry mixture add:

1 cup strained canned tomatoes

1-2 cup mild vinegar

1-2 cup water

1 small onion grated.

The sauce is mixed cold and poured over the roast, the meat left to soak in the sauce for an hour before baking. Put roast in a roasting pan, in a 500 degree oven and let it brown for 15 minutes, pour sauce over it and reduce heat to 350 degrees, cover roast and allow 25 minutes per pound for baking time. Baste roast frequently with the sauce during the slow baking. When done, take up roast, strain the sauce and thicken slightly with flour and water, then simmer gravy for 10 minutes.

The cut of pork used will depend on the state of your food budget. A shoulder cut is nice if not too fat. Have the bones removed, skewer meat and tie into a flat package before browning. For second choice use a piece of the fresh ham.

Church Societies

Women's Union

Combining all sections of First Congregational Women's Union in one friendly group, Mrs. George Griffith had them welcome Wednesday to the spacious grounds of her country home on North Placencia street.

Approximately 60 members and their friends took advantage of her gracious hospitality and gathered with varied contributions to the menu, to share a picnic luncheon served at 1 o'clock. In advance of the afternoon program of needlework and chat, Mrs. Bert Willes, president of the Women's Union, conducted a short business meeting.

Mrs. Griffith told of the needs of a family in which the churchwomen are interested, and received generous response from the group for the supplies so urgently needed. She talked also on her visits to the patients in the TB annex at Orange County General hospital, and the work the union is doing there.

The Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the church, outlined some of the plans under way for the coming year's work. Announcement was made by Mrs. L. H. Shaine of a covered dish supper for Southwest section members, to be held next Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock in the rear garden of the L. T. Bishop home, 505 South Parton street. Members of other sections were extended cordial invitation to take part in the affair.

THE WORLEYS ARRIVE

Dr. and Mrs. Harry W. Worley and children, Claragene and Jim, who arrived in Santa Ana Wednesday after a leisurely trip from New Haven, Conn., are located at 1535 East First street. They were dinner guests upon arrival, of Mrs. Worley's brother-in-law and sister, the Rev. and Mrs. O. Scott McFarland, 802 Orange avenue.

The Worleys were in New Haven while Dr. Worley took two years of graduate work at Yale, receiving his Ph.D. degree in June. Dr. Worley plans to sail September 1 for Foochow, China, where he will be engaged in the mission field. His family expects to remain in the Southland.

Daughters-De Molays Have Park Picnic

Santa Ana bethel Job's Daughters and De Molays combined their plans for a picnic Wednesday night, assembling at Irvine Park for a gala affair shared by more than 250 members, families and friends of the two groups.

Courtney Chandler and E. U. Farmer of De Molay Council and Mr. and Mrs. William Dean of Job's Daughters Council were among those present. Official hosts for the evening were Miss Esther Belle Christian and Ralph Pagenkopp, honored queen and master counselor of Job's Daughters and De Molays.

One of the exciting features of the evening was a De Molay baseball game. The two host groups contributed ice cream and coffee to the covered dish dinner which was served at 7 o'clock. Dancing was enjoyed later in the evening.

VACATION PLANS

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Burkett and daughters, Eleanor, Sarah Jean and Jo Ann, 2311 Santiago avenue plan to leave Tuesday for a trip north.

Miss Eleanor Burkett will accompany the group as far as Berkeley, where she will enroll as a freshman at University of California. Her sisters probably will visit in Monterey with relatives while Mr. and Mrs. Burkett continue to Seattle, Wash. and other northern points, returning in two weeks' time.

You and Your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hildebrand and children, Donald and Kathryn, 1034 West First street, came home Tuesday evening from a month's trip north. They spent the greater part of the time in Spokane, Wash., with Mrs. Hildebrand's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Folkins. The Santa Anans enjoyed visiting in Seattle and in other northern cities.

Miss Laura Joiner, 810 Riverine avenue, had as recent overnight guest, Miss Mildred Everett of Rockford, Ill. Miss Everett is a contralto soloist in Rockford First Baptist church, where Miss Joiner was an active member before coming to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grover and daughter Patricia have arrived from their home in Onaga, Kans., for an extended visit with Mr. Grover's brother, J. Ross Grover and family, and other relatives in and near Santa Ana. The motor trip to the coast was by way of Grand Canyon, Boulder Dam and other points of scenic interest.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ulm and children, Billie, Gerald and Donald, Holt avenue have returned from a seven weeks' trip. They stopped at Zion and Bryce National Parks and at the Black Hills en route to Minnesota and Wisconsin. Making the return journey, they spent some time in Colorado, and visited at various scenic spots along the way to California.

BY THE BAT BOY

This particular column is the Bat Boy's swan song. Your old commentator and columnist, Eddie West, will be back on the job come Monday morning and the Bat Boy will go back to tending his bats—and we don't mean the kind that circulate in the belfry.

But just before we sign off we want to put one Harry Grayson in his proper place. He came out the other day in his "Payoff" column to the effect that Bernie Bierman would be the next coach at either U. C. L. A. or U. S. C. Just why Harry thinks Bernie would give up his post at Minnesota to coach at U. C. L. A., is beyond reasoning.

We could understand why a coach would consider the U. S. C. post, but not Bierman, who stands as high with the Gopher institution and the undergrads as well as the alumni. Bernie may not get the same kind of potatoes at Minnesota that U. S. C. could dish out, but he'll stay longer than he would at U. S. C., where you either win football games or you look for a new job. Bierman is a Minnesota graduate, played football there, and has done a pretty sweet job as head man. We doubt if the Minnesota institution would let him get away even if he had a desire to come West, which we also doubt.

Well we got that off our chest before Eddie got back.

Bat Boy Specials—John (Pete) Kotlar, returning letterman guard for the Don football team is back on his feet this week after an attack of pneumonia.

Big Bill Cole, Tex Oliver's ace lieutenant at Oregon U. almost caused a tidal wave when he plunged into the municipal pool in Orange last week. One of Bill's young hopefuls was with him.

Maybe you think this Playgrounds league isn't clicking. Two thousand fans turned out the other night to watch the youngsters perform in the Municipal Bowl. And are these kids getting a boot out of it. We believe it's a mighty fine idea and out of these hundreds of youngsters playing baseball, is going to come some fine talent in future years. Then there's that angle of keeping kids off the streets, too.

This business of playing the opening games of the National Nightball league playoffs at Wrigley field looks from this post to be the real McCoy. It will give the fans an opportunity to see all four teams play at one time for a very nominal sum. We understand that it will cost about $200 for the undertaking, but it's our guess that considerably more than that will come through the gates from Orange county alone, not to mention hundreds of followers of softball in Los Angeles who will get an opportunity to see the game played in the metropolis. The National league brand of softball is far superior to that played in the various Los Angeles leagues.

Then again the teams participating will not have much farther to travel than they would otherwise. Suppose Santa Ana opened against San Bernardino. It's a longer trip to that city than it is to Los Angeles. The same is true of Huntington Beach. The fans and players will find it much more convenient going to Wrigley field.

And speaking of baseball, there's going to be a pretty good game at the Bowl next Wednesday night when the All-Stars with Jimmie Coates on the mound meets the

MAJOR LEAGUE TEAMS BIDDING ON HUTCHINSON

SEATTLE, Aug. 5.—(UP)—A price tag marked "For Sale, $100,000" was hung today on 18-year-old Fred Hutchinson, another "boy wonder," who pitches for the Seattle Rainiers in the Pacific Coast league.

Scouts from at least five major league teams would like to grab him.

But Emil G. Sick, president of the club, isn't in a hurry to sell this youth, whose father gave him a baseball instead of a rattle to play with when he was a baby.

Wants $100,000

"I want $100,000 in cash for Hutch," Sick said. "He's plenty valuable to us. If we decide to sell or trade him, we'd want to hold delivery until 1940, and then have an option on him in case he failed to make the grade—which would be very unlikely."

"There's never been a player to come into baseball as finished a product as Hutchinson. His control is unusual, and his combination of a curve, fast ball and change of pace is the hardest puzzle Coast league batters have faced in years."

Hutchinson's career parallels to some extent that of Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians.

His father was interested in making a ball player out of him. He was a star at grammar and high school where he played several positions including catcher.

He joined the Rainiers this year, and so far has won 17 and lost six. His manager, Jack Lelivelt, describes him as the best prospect he ever has seen—and Lelivelt has been watching him for 32 years.

Has Great Record

With nearly three quarters of the season over, Hutchinson probably will pitch 10 more games and Lelivelt expects him to win half of them. That would give Hutchinson a record of 22 victories and 12 defeats, which is a mark very few class AA veterans ever hang up.

Like Feller, Hutchinson draws capacity crowds at home and on the road. He is cool under fire and his ability seems to instill confidence in the rest of the club. So much so, in fact, that Sick said Seattle has held a first division berth most of the season despite mediocre material.

Hutchinson thus far has yielded only 177 hits to opponents who had more than 100 and walked only a little more than 60. His earned run average is about 2.50 per game.

He has not yet reached his full growth, but he already stands six feet, two inches and weighs 200 pounds. He is strong enough to stand considerable work, but Lelivelt has used him only three times every two weeks.

Scouts of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Boston Red Sox, Cleveland Indians, Philadelphia Athletics and New York Yankees have looked over the youngster and made tentative offers.

LILACS UPSET CLUB

LORAIN, O., (UP)—The Garden Club has been forced to change its biennial lilac festival to a rose festival because the lilacs bloomed too early this year. The club was caught unprepared.

American motorists' gasoline tax bill is increasing at the rate of $100,000,000 a year.

Shell team from Long Beach with Morse hurling, Morse never has lost a game to Coates, but Coates says he can beat Morse if he has a team like the Stars behind him. Well they'll settle the old question once and for all next Wednesday night. It should be a sell-out. The line forms at the left.

Auf Wiedersehen.

He's In Championship Form

The splendid form of Bobby Riggs, 20-year-old tennis star from Chicago, in his victory over Elwood T. Steele in the singles tennis match at Seabright, N. J. assures young Riggs of a place on the Davis Cup team. He was second ranking U. S. player before his victory at Seabright.

Girl Softball Teams Invade N. Y. Gardens

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Whoops-a-doope, my chums! Wouldn't it 'Tex Rickard keel over in a faint!

His Madison Square Garden, his palace of punch, home of the world's most savage fights, now is turned over to girls' softball teams twice a week.

Can't you see it 'Tex, black stogie clamped in a corner of that gambler's mouth of his, when he gets a gander of this spelled out in the marquee lights:

"Tonight—The Roverettes vs. the Elsie Dinsmore girls in nine innings of thrilling softball."

Or when he walks into the fight arena and the exotic bouquet of Christmas night or City's passion flower swirls about his head instead of the strong liniment he loved so well.

But the pay-off would come, I believe, when he took a look at the goings-on. For a man who went for the Berlenbachs and the Sharkeys, the Fipros and the Dempseys blasting one another to bits with iron fists; for a man whose ears knew no sweeter music than the call of the fistic wild—"Kill 'im, kid, kill 'im, kid!"—Girls' softball is scarcely adequate.

Not that girls' softball isn't pretty rough, mind you. Why only the other night, when the Roverettes were playing a very important (?) series, a Roverette batter had her marcel brutally bashed by a fast ball, and when the umpire called a third strike on another Roverette she gave him a glance that said better than words: "One more decision like that and I'll slap your wrists into a pulp."

And in another game one of the girls was suspended for 15 minutes and forbidden to use her mirror or lipstick for going into third base with her crimson fingernails high. Girls softball has its own Gehrigs and Greenbergs and Hubbels. The star of the Roverette team, which is sponsored by the Garden, is Mary Ontek. Softball critics say Mary, an outfielder, hasn't a weakness. At the plate there is no fooling her. She can hit anything. Throw her a soft one, and she'll cut it on the bias and knock the hemstitches off the ball. Throw her a fast one, girle high, and she'll do it to what Maggie does to Jiggs with her rolling pin. Mary is hitting .666 and has scored more runs than there are stockings in a gross.

The Montreal Maroons, champions of Quebec, are here for a series with the Roverettes, and their star is Dolly Moore, a catcher. One softball veteran, who has seen girl softball stars come and go for night on to four years, says Dolly is the greatest backstop the game has produced.

"Better than Gabby Hartnett ever was, and a heluva sight prettier," is the way he puts it. "You might as well try and pick J. Edgar Hoover's pockets as to try and seal on Dolly."

The opening of a girls' softball game at the Garden is very reminding of a refined burlesque strip tease act. The girls come in wearing blazers and long, loose pants. Then, with the lights properly adjusted, they peel these off and—Presto!—there they stand, lovely in shimmering satin shorts and shirts. It offers a much more inspiring sight than do the Yankees or Giants when they dash from the dugouts onto the field. To me, anyway. Of course, I may be prejudiced.

FANS HOWL WITH DELIGHT AS CHRISTY BEATEN BY MAGILL

Patrons of Bud Levin's House of Horrors left last night's weekly meeting rejoicing on account of they have been paying good money for a long time hoping to see Ted Christy get the works and that, my friends, is just exactly what he got at the hands of Cecil McGill, clever Long Beach grappler. Although smaller and less experienced, McGill proved to the satisfaction of one and all that a little quick thinking when the going gets rough, can work miracles, and clinched his case by making a chump out of the hated Sunland roughneck by pulling a surprise counter attack and taking the third and deciding fall when everyone had given up hope of the Long Beach boy coming out of a villainous Boston Crab hold applied by Christy.

The Sunland terror came out for the first fall with his usual bag of dirty tricks and secured a hammer lock on McGill punishing him severely for several minutes before Referee Jack Allen broke the hold because of Christy's unnecessary roughness. McGill tore back at Christy repaying the compliment with interest, chasing the ruffian out of the ring time after time to the delight of the gallery gods but finally blundered and was bent into something resembling a last year's pretzel by Christy, which was called a Boston Crab, to drop the first fall in the time of 15:32.

The fans roared with anger and shouted to McGill to "kill that bum to death" and Cecil, always the accommodating soul, came out for the second fall vainly to go, but met up with a few dozen slugs to the back of the neck and knees to the groin that made things look bad.

The Long Beach boy let Christy amuse himself until he saw an opening, however, and then started a series of Gus Sonnenberg's old fashioned "billy goat butts", battering Christy hither and yon, finally knocking him flatter than Office Pinnegan's feet to take the second fall and thrill the customers in 1:16.

Christy tore out for the third fall slugging McGill to the canvas and applied the dreaded Boston Crab hold again but the Long Beach man was wise. He gave a quick jerk dumping Christy on his back and as quick as a flash applied a crushing body slam to take the third and deciding fall and send the customers home happy in the time of 1:34.

The Red Devil and the Black Secret tussled and groaned to a 45-minute draw, each receiving one fall in the course of time.

Clever little Bolo Pilar, Philippine grappler, all but stole the show by putting on the fastest bout seen here in ages and giving dirty Fritz Hansen the larrupping of his life, making hosts of everlasting friends by mopping up the ring with Hansen's carcass and laying him out colder than a last year's bird's nest with a beautiful flying broad jump while the Dane was attempting mayhem on the person of

AMBERS' SPEED IS BIG WORRY TO ARMSTRONG

By LESLIE AVERY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Aug. 5.—(UP)—Henry Armstrong, who knocked out 36 of his last 38 opponents enroute to the world feather and welterweight boxing titles, was training today for a 15 round decision victory in his fight with lightweight champion Lou Ambers next Wednesday night.

Manager Worried

"I've been worried sick about this fight," said Armstrong's manager, Eddie Mead. "Ambers is without a doubt the toughest and fastest boy Henry has had to tangle with yet, and he couldn't seem to do anything right in his early training sessions. It looks like everything is going to be all right now. He is not training for a quick knockout because he knows that nobody is belting out the rugged Ambers in a hurry."

To improve his footwork for this lightweight title scrap at the Polo grounds, Armstrong has been employing the unorthodox method of pantomime boxing in the moonlight against speedy Lou Feldman, of New York.

Footwork Sluggish

"He's been doing it for more than a week now," Mead said. "We had to do something because his footwork was so sluggish. Feldman who jumps around a lot like Ambers, was making Henry miss a mile in the daylight rounds. Sometimes my boy almost plunged through the ropes. Although no blows are struck, these three rounds every evening have improved Henry's footwork more than a hundred percent. He has learned to pursue Lew on a zig-zag course, crowding and riding him all over the ring."

Armstrong had his best sparring session yesterday. He worked five rounds against Feldman and Chalky Wright, a fast little Los Angeles sparmate. Although he wore a bulky, especially designed head guard to protect minor facial cuts, Henry was moving faster and punching more accurately.

His showing brought a wide grin to Mead's face.

KIPKE TAKES LEAD IN COACHING POLL

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Harry Kipke, former head coach at the University of Michigan, regained the lead today in the nationwide balloting to select a coach for the college all stars who meet Washington's professional champions, the Redskins, Aug. 31.

Kipke's total today was 3,026, 356 points. Bo McMillin of Indiana, was second with 2,899,786, Raymond Pond of Yale had 2,873,680, Elmer Layden of Notre Dame had 2,847,652 and A. J. Robertson, Bradley Tech of Peoria, Ill., remained among the leaders with 1,697,233.

And He Swings A Mean Pen

His defeat by Jim Braddock and annihilation by Joe Louis hasn't entirely dimmed the luster of Max Baer. Autograph hunters find him back in the woods at his training camp near Lake Tahoe. The champion quits swinging an ax to swing his signature. He says he's preparing to again tackle Louis this fall.

Hartnett In Drastic Move Benches 2 Men

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Gaby Hartnett's three word speech to the Chicago Cubs when he was elevated to the boss man's job July 20 was:

"Win or else."

Hartnett wasn't kidding either. In one of the most drastic moves of the baseball season the big, blustering catcher-manager benched two of the Cubs' highest priced stars. Rip Collins and Frank Demaree, yesterday after Wednesday's defeat by the Giants.

He yanked Phil Cavarretta in from the outfield and put him on first base in Collins' place. He sent Rookie Jim Asbell in right field in Demaree's spot. The shift had an electrifying effect upon the entire Cubs ball club. Cavarretta didn't make any hits but fielded flawlessly at first. Asbell ripped out two line singles and scored two runs. The Cubs played like champions as they knocked off the Giants, 6-0.

Larry French, who has been having the worst luck of his major league career, did an about face with the Cubs and pitched a six hit shutout.

The triumph enabled the Cubs to move within a game and a half of the second place Giants and to trim Pittsburgh's margin to 7 games.

The Pirates succumbed to the Boston Bees, 4-3. Although rapped for 12 hits Danny Macfadden kept them scattered. Joe Stripp's long fly with the bases loaded in the eighth gave the Bees their winning run. Vince DiMaggio hit a homer with two in the time of 14:26.

Bill (Spider Legs) Hall and Abe Goldberg tussled to an interesting twenty minute draw. Hall gave the fans a lot of laughs with his long legged antics.

Tonight's Games
Santa Ana at Huntington Beach; Orange at Irvine; Anaheim at Brea; San Bernardino at Whittier.

Another one of those crucial games—crucial as far as the Santa Ana Stars are concerned—will be played at Huntington Beach tonight when Doc Smith's boys will endeavor to cinch fourth place in the National Nightball league and thus qualify.

While the Stars are almost certain starters in the playoffs there's still a mathematical possibility for Irvine to tie the local boys for fourth place and necessitate a playoff game one week from tomorrow night. However, Santa Ana must lose all its three remaining games and the Beantickers must win all three in order to tie up the place. On the other hand Santa Ana still has a chance to finish in third place or even second. The Stars are two games out of second place and but one game out of third.

Doc Smith will send in his full strength tonight with Jacobmeyer doing the hurling and Wiener in left field, taking the place of Tom Denney. Ray Short in center field is proving of great value to the Stars. His fielding is airtight and his batting is something that has been needed all season.

Orv. Schuchart, the hard-hitting outfielder for the Huntington Beach Oilers will not be in the lineup tonight having gone on a vacation. The Oilers already have cinched first place and Joe Rodgers probably will try and rest his men for the opening of the playoffs a week from Sunday night in Wrigley Field.

TWO CALIFORNIANS CLASH IN TOURNEY

CULVER, Ind., Aug. 5.—(UP)—Welby Van Horn, Los Angeles, pre-tournament favorite, meets Dave Freeman, unseeded, Pasadena, Calif., in a semi-final match of the National Junior Tennis championships today.

In the other semi-final, Bobby Curtis, Houston, Tex., meets Isadore Bellis, Philadelphia, 1936 boy champion.

Van Horn defeated Bill McGhee, New Orleans, seeded No. 8, in a quarter final match yesterday, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3. Freeman eliminated Seymour Greenberg, Chicago, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3. Curtis defeated Jack Kramer, Monticello, Ohio, 6-1, 3-6, 7-5, in an upset.

Bellis defeated Ted Olewine, Santa Monica, Calif., 6-0, 6-1. The semi-final pairings of the junior doubles pit Horn and Freeman against Dick McKee, Miami Beach, Fla., and McGhee; and Greenberg and David Johnson, Washington, D.C., against Kramer and Ken Bartlett, Los Angeles.

MISS BUNDY LOSES TO WORKMAN

FREE MATCHES PROVE UPSETS IN EAST MEETS

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Aug. 5.—(UP)—Rank ceased to mean anything today as semi-final singles matches were played in the men's tennis tournament at the Meadow club and in the women's invitational at nearby Maidstone club.

In quarter-finals yesterday, five of the eight matches brought upsets. First and second round players of the women's seedings were eliminated. The second and third ranking U. S. players and a top seeded foreign star were eliminated in men's competition.

Upset in the Maidstone tourney were top-seeded Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica, Calif., third ranking player in the nation, and second-seeded Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, Cambridge, Mass., who is ranked sixth nationally.

The men's seeded casualties were Bryan Grant, Atlanta, Ga., No. 2; Joe Hunt, Los Angeles, No. 3; and Charley Hare of England who headed the foreign seedings.

Today, top-seeded Bobby Riggs, of Chicago, only one of the men to play true form, met Frank Kovacs, the Oakland, Calif., sensation who was seeded fifth and who triumphed over Hunt yesterday.

In the other bracket, Sidney B. Wood Jr., former Davis Cup player essaying a comeback, tackles Don McNeill, Oklahoma City ace who put out Hare. Wood defeated Grant yesterday.

At the Maidstone, Dorothy Workman of Los Angeles, who surprised Miss Bundy, meets the last surviving seeded player, Helen Pedersen, of Stamford, Conn., No. 4; and Barbara Winslow, Hollywood, Calif., who upset Mrs. Fabyan, tackles Virginia Wolfenden of San Francisco. It was Miss Wolfenden who eliminated the only foreign seeded entrant, Miss Sylvia Henrotin, France, in the first round.

Semi-final doubles in both tournaments also will be played today.

The PAYOFF

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Ralph Guldahl and Samuel Jackson Snead are the two finest modern golfers in America both as regards shot-making and scoring.

Snead is the supreme stylist, Guldahl the ideal competitor. Guldahl concentrates more intensively than any player since Bobby Jones, in the opinion of the veteran Tom McNamara.

"Paul Runyan might beat either Guldahl or Snead seven out of 10 times at 36-hole match play, because of his wizardry on the greens," says McNamara. "A champion who rains down 10 and 20-foot putts as often as Runyan does is hard to head off in a match. Paul is as persistent as a terrier in hunting down his quarry."

"Over the 72-hole medal route, however, Runyan isn't in the same class with Guldahl and Snead. The margin in their favor becomes wider over a season's span. Their sounder swings tell in the long run. Mechanically, Snead is the best hitter of a golf ball ever developed in this country. From drive to putt, the Virginian reveals not a single weakness. His great circle swing, arms extended as far as practicable from the body throughout the arc, is the last word in rhythm."

Topnotch Golfers Bear Down
"Sneads' full, free pivot is as nearly perfect as that combined hip and shoulder turn can be. His footwork is equally admirable. I've never seen him hit a shot without balance. His hips do not move in there before the clubhead contacts the ball with a slightly closed face."

Effortless power appears to characterize Snead's swing. This is an optical illusion, of course, because no one can swat a golf ball 280 yards without applying terrific muscular energy. Don't let him fool you. Snead is longer than Jones with every club. Unlike the immortal Georgian, he doesn't pull his short pitches off line. Sam's touch on chips and putts is worthy of the Atlanta prodigy. He finishes what he starts.

Lack of concentration is the chink in Snead's armor, according to McNamara. That is where Guldahl has an edge on him. Snead appears to let his mind wander at times. As Gene Sarazen asserts, "He goes quiet shooting mentally."

While a tournament is on, Guldahl lives in a little world of his own. Following the United States Open at Denver's Cherry Hills, it took Mrs. Guldahl 10 minutes to pull the large Norwegian out of his hypnotic trance and convince him that he still was champion.

"I can better that," Ferrebee snapped—and he did on the re- turn 18. He came in eight strokes better for an 82. That's what he usually takes for the course.

He bore down on the third 18 but took another 82. Statisticians in the gallery informed the player he had swung 172 times in 170 minutes for a stroke a minute average over the first 36 holes. They calculated that he had used only four minutes and 42 seconds on each of the first 36, but that didn't satisfy Ferrebee.

"I can better that," he reiterated. He shifted from orange juice, which he had sipped as he strode over the fairway, to beer.

"Get my other shoes ready," he told one of his three caddies. As a precaution against losing time hunting balls, Ferrebee had two caddies ahead as spotters. A third—a husky lad—was burdened down with four woods, 10 irons, two extra pairs of studded shoes, orange juice, beer and candy bars.

As he turned into the third 18, Ferrebee said he was "more worried than a cat on a hot tin roof."

ROSENBLOOM TAKES ON PASTOR TONIGHT

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom, boxer and playboy, carried the support of the film colony in his heavyweight fight with Bob Pastor of New York in Gilmore stadium tonight.

Rosenbloom, who runs a night club and has played parts in several movie productions, said that he would put on a 40 minute show at his club before going into the ring to meet the New York heavyweight. Then, he said, "win, lose or draw," he would return to his club.

Pastor was a 6 to 5 favorite, despite heavy betting on Rosenbloom by movie stars.

Fight experts promised that the bout would furnish plenty of action for the 30,000 persons who are expected to fill the small arena to capacity. Pastor is a methodical, versatile fighter who was able to withstand the punching of Joe Louis.

Rosenbloom, veteran of 350 fights, is a master boxer, a wise ring technician. But he is 36, 12 years older than Pastor, and his legs no longer are as solid as when he first began his ring career as a youth of 19.

He has done little training, spending each night in his club. He smokes cigars, spends part of his time on Hollywood movie sets where he earns $1000 a week, and sleeps irregularly.

They said they were in excellent condition. Pastor's fighting weight was 183. They are about the same height.

Following the United States Open at Denver's Cherry Hills, it took Mrs. Guldahl 10 minutes to pull the large Norwegian out of his hypnotic trance and convince him that he still was champion.

"I can better that," Ferrebee snapped—and he did on the re- turn 18. He came in eight strokes better for an 82. That's what he usually takes for the course.

He bore down on the third 18 but took another 82. Statisticians in the gallery informed the player he had swung 172 times in 170 minutes for a stroke a minute average over the first 36 holes. They calculated that he had used only four minutes and 42 seconds on each of the first 36, but that didn't satisfy Ferrebee.

$32,500 STAKE AS BROKER STARTS 144 HOLES OF GOLF

OLYMPIA FIELDS GOLF COURSE, CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—(UP)—J. Smith Ferrebee, young broker, started out today at a strike a minute clip in his down to dusk golf marathon with a $30,000 stake and $2500 in side bets at stake.

Ferrebee, already owns half the plantation. His partner, Fred Turk, agreed to give him the other half if he could play 144 holes on the tough Olympia links, each round under 55 strokes, between dawn and midnight. It was their way of dissolving a partnership they couldn't settle any other way.

Ferrebee teed off at 5:05 a.m. on the No. 4 course—toughest in the championship layout. Swinging along at a clip that quickly tired the small gallery, he finished his first 18 in 90.

"I can better that," he reiterated. He shifted from orange juice, which he had sipped as he strode over the fairway, to beer.

"Get my other shoes ready," he told one of his three caddies. As a precaution against losing time hunting balls, Ferrebee had two caddies ahead as spotters. A third—a husky lad—was burdened down with four woods, 10 irons, two extra pairs of studded shoes, orange juice, beer and candy bars.

As he turned into the third 18, Ferrebee said he was "more worried than a cat on a hot tin roof."

Tustin in today as the first place team at the completion of the regular season's schedule in the Orange County Nightball league. A 4 to 3 victory over Irvine's Cubs at Tustin last night did the trick. Henry (Hank) Martinez hurled six hit ball for Tustin and clammed out a home run in the ninth inning to cinch victory and first place in the standings.

San Juan Capistrano defeated Yorba Linda 3 to 0 on the up-county diamond to assure them of no worse than a tie for second place with Placentia. It was the final league encounter of the 1938 season for the Mission City boys. Placentia, smashed out a 13 to 1 victory over the last place Costa Mesa nine to stay in the running for second place.

Next Monday night's games will complete the regular season's play and the Shaughnessy play-off series between the four top teams will complete the season.

Wilbur Stinchfield struck out 19 Costa Mesans in Placentia's 12 to 1 victory at Placentia. Three batters runs featured the Placentia attack. Cliff Hargrove got one in the first and Jimmy Stives collected two, one in first and one in the second. "Rusty" Sullivan, scored Costa Mesa's lone run in the ninth with a four base poke.

Elks Victors Over Loyola Field Team

Darwin Scott's Santa Ana Elks defeated the Van Vorst All Stars of Loyola Field 4 to 3 at the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl last night.

The Los Angeles nine immediately following the game asked for a return game down here week after next.

The visitors rang the bell first, scoring twice in the second inning. Ray Short, Fred Cartwright and Dave Webb ganged up on the Van Vorst pitcher to tie the count to 2. Pick up one more run in the fourth. The Elks went into a 3 to 2 lead. Van Vorst's tied the count in the fifth and the Elks, chased across the winning run in the seventh.

FANTASTIC STEEL CITY OF 1999 TO BE DISPLAYED AT S. F. FAIR

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—San Francisco—the city of 1999—what will it be?

Selecting San Francisco, site of U. S. Steel, the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, as the subject for architectural and engineering evolution, United States Steel, as a part of its exhibit at the World's Fair of the West on Treasure Island, will show how imaginative builders, working with steel, could transform a city into a place of fabulous beauty and convenience.

40-Story Apartments
In the San Francisco of 1999, seven hilltop communities form the outstanding feature of the residential section. On the crest of these hills will be 40-story apartment houses. Each hilltop community will be a unit within itself, with shops, landing fields and parking areas. Connecting these communities will be elevated highways, with spiral ramps to the lower levels which are laid out in super-block of 500 feet square. Low-cost homes of steel and three-story apartments are to be found in the lower level residential areas.

One Skyscraper Each
Plans for the dramatic exhibit were announced here by Ambrose Diehl, president of Columbia Steel company, west coast subsidiary of U. S. Steel.

The super-blocks in commercial areas of San Francisco of the future are 550 by 800 feet in area. Each has one skyscraper, surrounded by one-story shops. Super-blocks will also be found in the industrial section. Factories would be built around the perimeter of the blocks, with ample interior space for parking and gardens.

OLD CHERRY TREE PRIZED
HEALDSBURG, Cal. —(UP)—John A. Plack says he has two things of which he is proud. One is an English oxbow cherry tree 81 years old, with a 10 foot trunk, which is still bearing cherries and the other is a ranch which has been in the family also for 81 years and which has never been mortgaged.

Sells Estate to Bring 'Heaven' to Roosevelt

Howland Spencer, left above, importer, heir of a wealthy family and connected by marriage to the Vanderbilts and British nobility, said that he "virtually gave" his estate on the Hudson to followers of Father Divine so they might establish a farm colony directly across the river from President Roosevelt's estate of Krum Elbow. Divine adherents immediately began renovation of the boathouse, right, which dominates the three-mile waterfront of the Spencer estate, on which Spencer retained a cottage and 15 acres. "Father Divine's economic ideas are more economically sound than Roosevelt's," said Spencer, as he gave his blessing to the agricultural experiment of the Negro cult leader.

Visitor Honored At H. B. Luncheon

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 5.—Miss Anna May Laird of San Francisco, a houseguest of Mrs. John Kelley McDonald, was honored guest at a bridge luncheon at the ranch home of Mrs. Emil Kettler recently. Mrs. Kettler's daughter, Mrs. Maurice Plumlee, assisted. Bright colored dahlias taken from the gardens of the home were used in the decoration of the luncheon tables and about the home. Dainty towels were given as prizes to the winners at bridge. The winners were Mrs. Harry Bakre, Mrs. J. S. Farquhar and Mrs. Walter Dabney. Other guests attending were Mesdames Vyda McCallen Riley, B. W. Hardy, Harry Overmyer, Victor Terry, H. W. Hartley, Harry Sheue, Jack Robertson and J. K. McDonald.

On Wednesday Miss Laird was honored at a luncheon given by Mrs. H. Gussman at the El Encanto in Westwood Village.

SILVER ACRES

SILVER ACRES, Aug. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Howard, Mrs. Mary Howard, Thelma Howard and Virgil Howard went to Oceanview recently to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Howard. Mrs. Willis W. Cadwallader and children, Joan, David and Billy, have returned from a visit of two weeks in the home of Mrs. Cadwallader's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Goble at Redlands. Sidney Aggleton went to Escondido Tuesday on a business trip. Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Crawford of Santa Ana were guests Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Butler. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Taggleton of Southgate and William Rouns were dinner guests Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldney Eggleton. Major and Mrs. I. Phillip Blade of Washington, D.C., have arrived for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie G. Hubert and at their former home in San Diego.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Aug. 5.—Mrs. Flora Geren is spending the week with her son, Bert Geren, at San Diego. The following were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith and family at Hermosa Beach Tuesday: Mr. and Mrs. Glen Speck and family, Mrs. C. K. Lee and daughter, Miss Ethelyn Lee. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Stringer attended the Indiana picnic at Sycamore Grove in Los Angeles Sunday.

HOWARD URGES 'PRINT' RECORD

Police Chief Floyd Howard today reiterated his desire "for any and all citizens of Santa Ana and Orange county to take advantage of the finger-printing facilities offered at city hall."

The repetition of his plea for cooperation, he explained, came as the result of action of the Orange 20-30 Club Wednesday night in sponsoring a county-wide campaign to encourage all citizens to be fingerprinted for permanent civilian records.

Praises 20-30 Club
"I think the club made a splendid move," Chief Howard said, "and it is right in line with the thing we have been urging all Santa Ana citizens to do. As a matter of fact, you will recall that on behalf of city council, all city employees now have been fingerprinted. Statistics show that in thousands of cases throughout the nation, this parental action has brought happiness to an equal number of homes."

Surprise Affair Held for Mother

OCEANVIEW, Aug. 5.—In compliment to their mother, Mrs. Laura Sizer, who has just returned home following a six months' stay with relatives in Canada, Mrs. Lizzie Spencer and Miss Lillie Sizer, daughters of the honoree, entertained friends of their mother at a pleasant afternoon affair at their home and served a delicious luncheon late in the afternoon. The honoree was honored with a grocery shower. A blue, green and pink color scheme was used in serving.

Present were Mrs. Charles Mud-dux, Mrs. E. E. King, Mrs. Clarence Breeding, Miss Margaret Hosack, Mrs. Ed. Dotson, Mrs. Chet Grover, Katie and Elaine Spencer, Mrs. Sizer, Mrs. Spencer and Miss Lillie Sizer.

Coolie was played, with prizes going to Mrs. Sizer and Mrs. Grover while Mrs. Dotson and Katie Spencer won in a modeling contest.

Members of the family attended a dinner party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Spencer of Santa Ana, who were observing their first wedding anniversary. Mrs. Laura Sizer, Miss Lillie Sizer, Henry Sizer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spencer and daughters, were included in the party and they presented gifts to the honorees.

LEMON PUNCH, FLIP TO MARK PROGRAM

VENTURA, Aug. 5.—Ventura lemon punch and Jubilesta lemon flip! These are two of the new lemon drinks reported being tried out by Ventura food caterers, who are getting ready for Ventura's Jubilesta, the summer celebration scheduled for Aug. 18 to 21. As a feature of the celebration, cafe, restaurant and other food and drink vendors in the county will specialize in lemon products on their menus during Jubilesta days. Following a suggestion by the Jubilesta committee, the idea was formally indorsed at a meeting of the Ventura county cafe owners and associates, who are urging all their members and others to feature during the Jubilesta, the health-giving fruit which grows so prolifically here, Ventura being the leading lemon-producing county in the United States.

Start Work On Canal Project

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 5.—(UP)—Construction was ordered today by the United States Bureau of Reclamation on the second section of the Contra Costa canal, an eight-mile concrete-lined ditch extending from Oakley to a point south of Antioch.

The first section of the canal, a unit of the Central Valley project, was completed this week from Rock Slough on the San Joaquin river to near Oakley. The firm of Haas, Doughty & Jones, and Marshall & Stacy of San Francisco, started work on the four-mile section in October, 1937.

The second section will be built by Pearson, Minnis and Moody, and Werner and Webb, of Los Angeles.

Confessions of a Dollar Bill on "Dollar Day"

My dear Gentle Reader:

Listen to me as I give you my confidence—

I was born in Washington, D.C., released from the Government printing press along with a multitude of my companions, and from that moment I was on "my own."

I was pure in thought, without guile, and of a tender disposition. My Uncle Sam said I was also "legal tender," and backed by him I looked with hope and fervor to a future useful life.

I am not yet old in years, but how I have aged in experience!

I am not discouraged because a few times I was improperly used.

More often, happily, I was passed on to alleviate suffering, to comfort the sick and help the needy.

And every time I had a new owner — labor, industry or capital, I was, for the most part, honestly earned.

Be of good cheer. This is a fine country. My Uncle Sam is a good sponsor and, this, his domain, is a fair land.

I have a stout heart, but before my "circulation" comes to an end, do something for me!

Take me to Sontag's — I am at my very best there and have more power!

Take me to Sontag's and spend me for your health, comfort and pleasure.

AREA LABORERS MEET TONIGHT

Members of the Orange County Central Labor Council announced today that agricultural field laborers under leadership of Pedro Mena will meet with Japanese vegetable growers tonight at Fullerton to consider demands of workers for an increase in wages from 25 cents to 30 cents per hour for a nine-hour day.

At the same time, Lucas Lucio, representing Mexican workers of the county, said he conferred yesterday with M. Sasaki, Huntington Beach, growers' representative, and Sasaki informed him the growers cannot afford to pay more than 25 cents.

Also Meet Saturday
"In view of the fact we could not agree, workers and growers plan to meet at Gonzales hall here, Saturday at 10 a. m. for further conference."

Investigating a report that four Mexican strikers yesterday verbally threatened six tomato pickers on the K. Yamami ranch, east of the Paulsboro school, Costa Mesa, with violence if they refused to quit their jobs, Sheriff Logan Jackson, who said he believed a strike with violence is impending, had this to say:

Rape Coercion
"I hope no effort will be made this year by persons who do not wish to work, to intimidate or coerce those who wish to work. This office intends to protect the lives, rights and property of Orange county people at all times."

Part of a statement issued by Lucio today states:

"To my certain knowledge, there are no so-called agitators among the field workers but they cannot live and feed their families on $9 per week, and all they desire is that an independent board of arbitration shall fix conditions and wages, and, if it be humanly possible, they will, in good faith, work under the conditions so fixed. We believe this is only fair and just."

Bridge Luncheon Held At Newport

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 5.—The weekend program of the Newport Harbor yacht club opened this afternoon with the Friday bridge luncheon, with Mrs. Bruce Beardsley as hostess.

SERIAL STORY MYSTERY AT THE LAZY R BY CLARKE NEWLON

COPYRIGHT, 1938
NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
NIKKI JEROME, a red-haired, blond, popular, engaged to six-foot, black-haired STEVE HALLORY, hero, who is accompanying her on a trip to Nikki's aunt and uncle on a Wyoming dude ranch. Nikki's father, PETER JEROME, is a wealthy New York Jeweler merchant.

Yesterday, Sarto is captured and crushed up. Then Steve demands to know who Fiske is. Fiske turns swiftly.

CHAPTER XIV

UNCLE JIM let loose a great roaring laugh and somehow the tenseness went out of the situation. Nikki and Steve looked at each other in bewilderment.

"Maybe we're crazy," said Nikki.

"No, honey," said Uncle Jim. "But you can put down the rifle, Steve. Fiske yonder is a detective."

"Detective?"

"Jewelry Protective," said Fiske, briefly, and then he smiled. "I don't blame you for being puzzled. Perhaps I haven't acted very detective-like. You see I knew exactly who Bancroft and Sarto were and they suspected pretty strongly who I was. But I couldn't act because this angle is just part of the entire case. If I tipped my hand too soon it would spoil the whole works."

Steve laid the rifle on the bench. Nikki started to speak. Then Sarto stirred slowly and Steve raised the rifle again, but Fiske had the revolver in his hands and was stepping back. Sarto slowly opened his eyes and sat up. His wavering glance finally centered on Fiske.

"Okay, copper," he said, and turned away.

"Bring the rope," said Fiske. They led Sarto to the same tree around which he had ordered Nikki and Steve, and the returning searchers. Fiske gave Steve the pistol and he pulled Sarto's arms back of him and around the tree, binding them securely. Then he tied his feet.

"A little uncomfortable but not painful," Fiske observed.

NIKKI, meantime, had pushed her uncle away from Rance and taken over the first aid job, working deftly and capably.

Uncle Jim brought out a kit from the cabin and Nikki selected a long swabbing stick and twisted cotton around one end of it. She dipped the cotton end into a bottle of iodine and said:

"This will hurt," Rance was watching her admiringly.

"Where did you learn all this?" he asked.

"School. First aid course."

Swiftly she ran the cotton swab through the wound, twisting it gently. Rance grimaced once and then grinned at her. The bleeding had almost stopped. She took a roll of bandage, placed a fold of cotton at the wounds on each side of the shoulder and wound the bandage over and around the chest.

"There," she said. "Now we need a sling. Wait a minute."

She unknotted the neckerchief from around her throat and fitted it on Rance. Suddenly, the job done, she felt a little weak. This would be a fine time to faint, she thought, now that everything's over. Then she remembered. The sun was high in the heavens. So much had happened it seemed as though it should be night. It was noon.

"Do you suppose," she said, resting one hand against the cabin and turning to her uncle, "do you suppose we could have something to eat? It's been a long time."

"My Lord," said Uncle Jim. "For a minute I clean forgot you two had been lost. Say, there's a lot of tellin' to be done around here."

"There certainly is," said Nikki. "There are a lot of things Steve and I want to know."

"From you and Fiske mostly," Steve told Uncle Jim.

"That can wait a minute," said Fiske. "I'll tell you the whole story, but first, suppose you tell me about Bancroft."

"Suppose we let both stories wait until after we give Steve and Nikki something to eat," called Uncle Jim. "I'll sling a little chow together right quick. Steve, maybe you could open this can of beans. Our regular cook has a headache."

WOODY wobbled over. "I can do it," he protested. Uncle Jim waved him back.

"Let Nikki look at your head. She's the nurse around here," Nikki found an ugly cut, daubed it with iodine and swathed his head in bandages.

"Wish I had something wrong with me," said her uncle.

"You will have if you don't hurry with the food."

"I'm a little hungry myself," he replied. "We had quite a walk hunting for you all—while you were right back here in camp."

Nikki and Steve ate ravenously and the others joined them. When they had finished Woody took a plate over and fed Sarto, who ate sullenly.

"If he says bandy-legs just once," observed Uncle Jim, "Woody will probably jab that fork down his throat. That shore was a mistake. He mighta got away if he hadn't made Woody so mad."

"You two certainly use good teamwork," said Nikki. "You yell and Woody dives."

"It's an old trick," her uncle confessed. "I knew what Woody was aimin' to do. All I had to do was yip."

Fiske picked up the conversation. "Suppose," he said, "that we hear what happened to Bancroft now. It's business with me, you know."

Nikki and Steve told them of the landslide and of their getting lost and spending the night in the hills, of hearing the shot the next morning, seeing Sarto, and of finding Bancroft's body.

"I suppose Sarto must have seen us from the top of the hill," finished Steve. "He didn't know we had found Bancroft but he did know we were following him. So he was waiting for us when we got home."

RANCE, Woody, and Nikki were left at the cabin with Sarto while Steve led Uncle Jim and Fiske to the ravine where Bancroft lay. Uncle Jim carried a spade from the cabin. Fiske examined the scene carefully, made many notes in a small book and asked Steve several questions. He extracted the bullet which had killed Bancroft and then they buried the New York racketeer in a grave in the ravine, and piled stones for a rude marker.

"He was genuinely concerned over you being lost," said Fiske. "Not me," said Steve shortly. "Nikki."

Fiske nodded. "That's what I meant. And that gave Sarto his chance to get him away from camp. They must have been heading for the other hill to see if they could sight you. When they passed this gully Bancroft decided to walk to the end of it. Sarto shot him in the back and that was the shot you heard."

Back at camp Steve told Nikki briefly that they had buried Bancroft. She turned to Fiske.

"Was he Bancroft or Dillon?"

"Wade Bancroft's real name, as you guessed," he said, "was Charles Dillon. And back of that is the story of this whole affair."

Nikki broke in. "But what was my father's connection with Bancroft—or Dillon, rather?"

Fiske lit a cigaret. "Dillon was your father's partner," he said.

WAE Flies Million Miles In July

Western Air Express flew over 1,340,000 passenger miles on its border to border system during July, an increase of 43 per cent over June and 17 per cent over July, 1937, according to a report made today by Alvin P. Adams, president of WAE. More than 4100 passengers were carried during July, an increase of 38 per cent over June and 21 per cent over July a year ago.

Western Air Express carried over 75,000 pounds of air mail last month, an increase of 8 per cent over July, 1937.

Adams attributed the substantial traffic increases to a general improvement in business conditions and to heavy summer vacation travel to Yellowstone and Glacier Parks.

SPEED KINGS TO RACE AUG. 14

Speed kings of the west will hurl their racing motorcycles over Orange county's fast new track on Sunday, August 14 at 1 p. m. when the four-star tourist trophy races are staged for thrilled spectators, it was announced today.

Sponsored by the Orange County Motorcycle club, the four-star races are sanctioned by the American Motorcycle association, a national organization. The races will be staged on the track located one mile west of the Arches overhead, near Newport Beach and five miles east of Huntington Beach.

New Type Program
According to Bob White, president of the Orange county club, a new type of program has been arranged for the speed competition on August 14. Eight races will be staged on the newly improved, five-eighths mile track, instead of the customary six races.

Four 10-lap races will be held, two for 45-cubic inch motors, and two for the more powerful 80-cubic inch motors. Then two eight-lap consolation races will be staged, one for each type of motor. There will be two 25-lap main events.

National Rally Day
The four-star race is the highest in the bracket of tourists trophy racing, and the local club is putting up in excess of $225 in cash prizes to secure the best riders in the west. Several of the crack riders who will race for fame and cash will leave after this race for the east to take part in the national speedway championships at Illinois state fair and the 100-mile national championships at Langhorne, Pa. In past years a majority of first places in eastern events have been captured by Southern California riders.

The day also has been designated by the A. M. A. as National Rally Day, when 'cycle riders are expected to attend or take part in some motorcycle event. For this reason, hundreds of riders are expected to flock to the Orange county races.

The Santa Ana Lions club has lost its musical ear but is deeply concerned in affairs of the day and likes a good laugh.

This was the report of Dr. Larry Cameron yesterday at the club meeting as the result of a poll conducted by the program committee in which the members were asked to vote on the type of program they preferred.

Results of the balloting indicated that the first interest of the club was in current events, second in popularity was comedy type program, and variety programs rated third.

Craft talks by the members and musical programs failed to get a favorable vote from nearly 50 electors.

WAE Flies Million Miles In July

Western Air Express flew over 1,340,000 passenger miles on its border to border system during July, an increase of 43 per cent over June and 17 per cent over July, 1937, according to a report made today by Alvin P. Adams, president of WAE. More than 4100 passengers were carried during July, an increase of 38 per cent over June and 21 per cent over July a year ago.

Western Air Express carried over 75,000 pounds of air mail last month, an increase of 8 per cent over July, 1937.

Adams attributed the substantial traffic increases to a general improvement in business conditions and to heavy summer vacation travel to Yellowstone and Glacier Parks.

Cupid Stays In The Running

In case you're interested in the rich girl-poor boy romance that cheered the country in June, here is evidence that it's coming along merrily. The heroine, Mrs. Andrea Dobbs, who defied her wealthy ship owner father, Commodore Edgar F. Luckenbach, is in a happy mood as she races along the beach with her husband, Billy Dobbs, butter-and-egg salesman. The couple were photographed during a week-end at Montauk, Long Island.

500 COUNTY LIONS EXPECTED AT FETE

Nearly 500 members of Orange county Lions clubs and their families are expected to attend the fourth annual picnic barbecue to be given by the Anaheim Lions club at Anaheim city park at 6:30 p. m. September 15, according to Louis Hoskins, president.

Special guests of honor, including the newly elected International President Walter Dexter, who is state superintendent of schools, Hugh Schmid, district governor, and Francis Line, secretary of the district, entertainment, a musical baseball game, and pit barbecue have been arranged for the affair.

Fred Sidebottom and Herb Eldred are in charge of general arrangements with Dr. John Boece in charge of the barbecue dinner.

The baseball game will be played between a team chosen from the four clubs west of the Santa Ana River—Anaheim, Huntington Beach, Garden Grove, and Brea—and those on the east side of the river—Santa Ana, Orange, Laguna Beach, and Costa Mesa-Newport Harbor.

POINTS OF INTEREST VARY FOR LOCAL AUTOISTS THIS WEEK-END

Motorists who plan to travel this week end toward the north part of the state have a wide choice of points of interest to visit, Elmer Heidt, manager of the Southern California Automobile club, pointed out today.

"In the Yosemite district the Lake Pillsbury area is proving attractive to fishermen and our central office advises that the best route is north over Hartstones, thence by fording the river and continuing over the old Oak Flat road to the lakes.

River Still High
"The road into French Meadows, by way of Auburn and Forest Hill and Robertsons Flat is considerably improved after flood washouts. However, it is only open as far as the first crossing of the American river, the river still being too high to be forded.

"The lakes in Potter Valley and ried about making 95 than making 144." He meant that he feared more that he might blow up on a round hole when he became tired toward the end of the day and run his 18 hole score over 95 than that he would not be able to complete the 144 hole circuit before dark.

Plan Celebration
"For those who are looking for excitement in the south, we are advised that bull fights will be held in Tijuana on Aug. 7 and Aug. 14 at 2 p. m.

"Pioneer Day will be celebrated in General Grant National Park on Sunday, under the auspices of the Wilsona Boosters Club of Grant Park. This ceremony will bring all of the old days of the early settlers into vivid reality," Heidt said.

Luncheon Held In Costa Mesa Home

COSTA MESA, Aug. 5.—The final session of the Wednesday Luncheon club preceding an August vacation was held this week at the home of Mrs. Emmett George at 407 Short street. Summer flowers were used in decorating the luncheon table.

High score award following the afternoon's bridge play went to Mrs. William Covert, second high score to Mrs. Johnny Haun and consolation award to Mrs. Nell Lloyd.

Present were Mrs. Emmett George, Mrs. Sam Hoke, Mrs. R. S. Downing, Mrs. William Covert, Mrs. William Otey, Mrs. Claude

To complete the course, Ferree probably will have to walk nearly 40 miles, although the measured distance of the four courses each played twice is 29.3 miles. He figured he had 15 hours of playing time. That would give him roughly 10 hours for walking and five hours for swinging. If he took 95 strokes for each 18, the player would swing 760 times or five strokes every two minutes.

He was bettering this on the first two rounds but expected to slow down as the day wore on and he wore down.

Ferree was aware that if he completed the assigned course he wouldn't have any record. One Bob Swanson played 306 holes in 19 hours at Los Angeles in 1932.

But he would settle his differences with Tuerc over management of the plantation in Princess Anne county, Va. They couldn't agree on management questions and neither wanted to buy out the other. Neither wanted to go to court. So when Tuerc heard Ferree boasting of his golf scores he challenged him to settle the ownership that way.

Sweetman, Mrs. Johnny Haun, all of the harbor area, and Mrs. Nell Lloyd of Placentia, a substitute for Mrs. Stanley Ackerman.

Jimmie Fidler

signment was "The Lady and the Cowboy"—and if you look closely you'll see that Gary Cooper uses "Sindler's Bay Rum."

Some five years ago: the "eighteen day diet" was the Hollywood rage...the Robert Montgomerys were celebrating the birth of a daughter...Marlene Dietrich was starting a one-woman strike against Paramount for better pictures and bigger pay-checks...

Charley Ray, once the silent screen's wealthiest star, filed a petition in bankruptcy...Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and Joan Crawford were divorced...Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone romanced...

Gary Cooper bought a ranch and gossipers predicted that he would marry Lillian Harvey...Hollywood was mourning the death of Ernest Torrance...Dinner at Eight was the current "colossal"...Lew Ayres and Ginger Rogers were making out a guest list for their wedding...

Jane Withers, breaking down a stern parental mandate, has acquired another dog. Seems that the Withers, driving back to Hollywood from an up-state rodeo, nearly ran over the pup. Jane leaped from the car, picked it up and, of course, decided that it must be hers.

While Mrs. Withers was marshaling her negative arguments, two youngsters appeared on the scene. The dog belonged to them but their father was determined to send it to the pound. That defeated Mrs. Withers. "I might have kept Jane from stealing the dog," she told me today, "but no one on earth could keep her from saving one's life."

The other night Preston Foster, who lives "somewhere in the Hollywood Hills," gave a party—and with his invitations issued maps showing how to reach his house. John Payne lost his. After driving miles over the labyrinth of roads which pierce the hills, he gave up hope of finding the Foster residence unaided and returned to Hollywood to telephone. Mr. Foster's phone number, he learned was confidential. John started home, then turned back on a sudden inspiration. Driving out Sunset, he found a professional "Guide to the Homes of the Stars." Ten minutes later—and fifty cents poorer—he was ringing Preston's doorbell.

I like the story about the awkward but amorous actor who took his heart's desire to the Trocadero. "I could die dancing," he sighed as they stumbled about the floor. "I don't doubt it," she retorted with a grimace of pain. "But why make it a double playing?"

Friends Guests At Bridge Affair

BUENA PARK, Aug. 5.—Mrs. Elizabeth Berkey invited a few friends to her home on Western avenue Wednesday to meet her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Stanley Berkey, a newcomer to Buena Park and to bid farewell to Mrs. E. S. Gienger, who is moving to her new home at Hemet. The affair was in the nature of a dessert bridge. Miss Betty Berkey assisted her mother in hostess duties.

Mrs. Harold Reddelberger was awarded first prize and Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy, second. Invited guests were the honorees, Mrs. Stanley Berkey and Mrs. E. S. Gienger; Mrs. Percy Owens, Mrs. M. Moore, of Fullerton, mother of Mrs. Stanley Berkey, Mrs. Charles Hillman, Mrs. Charles Baumstark, Mrs. Harold Reddelberger, Mrs. E. Moffett, Mrs. Frank Wiley, Mrs. H. Johnson, Miss Kay Magnuson and Mrs. Henry Legari.

VISITORS ENTERTAINED

WINTERSBURG, Aug. 5.—Mrs. E. Edgley and daughter, Eleanor Edgley, of Covina, have been guests in the J. W. McIntosh home and a beach party at Surfside was enjoyed one evening. Those present were Mrs. McIntosh, Mrs. Edgley, Miss Edgley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holmington, of Bakersfield, who are vacationing in this section, the Misses Victoria, Eunice Mary and Sara Jean McIntosh.

Another evening of the guests stay a group motored to Alhambra to the Church of the Open Door to hear Irwin Moore, with whom Fredrick McIntosh is affiliated in religious work, speak. From here were Mr. and Mrs. John McIntosh and baby, Mrs. J. W. McIntosh, Miss Edgley, Miss Dorothy Ralston, Wallace Perry, Omar Paxton, Gladstone McIntosh, Mrs. Harshorn of Alhambra, houseguest in the John McIntosh home, the Misses Victoria, Eunice Mary and Sara Jean McIntosh.

POLICEMAN SAVES CHILDREN

CLEVELAND (UP)—When Patrolman George Jackson saw a runaway automobile, driverless, careening toward seven children, he jumped to the running board, shut off the ignition and guided it safely to the curb. The car had been stolen, and the thief had leaped from it as the police approached.

Jane Withers, breaking down a stern parental mandate, has acquired another dog. Seems that the Withers, driving back to Hollywood from an up-state rodeo, nearly ran over the pup. Jane leaped from the car, picked it up and, of course, decided that it must be hers.

While Mrs. Withers was marshaling her negative arguments, two youngsters appeared on the scene. The dog belonged to them but their father was determined to send it to the pound. That defeated Mrs. Withers. "I might have kept Jane from stealing the dog," she told me today, "but no one on earth could keep her from saving one's life."

 1939 Catalogues

The announcement of the new 1939 Scott stamp catalogue is out.
 The release will be September 19, 1938, on the General International catalogue. The special United States will be out in October. This is the first time that the United States stamps will be illustrated in full picture. Before only part of the stamp was pictured. This catalogue will be well worth any one's money to own. It is thought they will be in great demand as the illustration will add greatly to one's knowledge on stamp and it is said a new pricing system will be started and many other new features. The price on the General catalogue is $3.00 unindexed and $3.50 indexed. The United States specialized catalogue is $3.00.

500 of the First U. S. Stamps
 Passing through an old office building in Boston, Mass., where a partition was being removed, a gentleman noticed, as some boxes were moved, a number of old envelopes fall to the floor. Seeing they were franked with the 10c black stamp of 1847, he asked permission to go over the firm's correspondence. This being granted, he found after a fortnight's work, over 500 copies of this stamp—which is now worth used from $1.10, according to impression.

1,000,000 Stamps for Prague
 Stamps to the value of a million pounds were on show at the Prague International Philatelic Exhibition held from the 26th of June to the 4th of July. Mr. Frank Godden took the exhibits from England to Prague and they included the two One Penny "Post Office" Mauritius stamps used on cover, which are owned by Mr. A.
 Lichtenstein, valued by Mr. Godden at $30,000.

Coronation Stamps Demonstrated
 The Stamp Magazine is officially informed by the Southern Rhodesian Government that all the Southern Rhodesian King
 George V stamps, including the Silver Jubilee issue and also the recent Coronation series, were demonstrated on the 31st May, 1938.

Niue and Cooks Coronation Quantities

Our New Zealand correspondent sends us the official figures for the Cook Islands and Niue Coronation stamps sold, which are:
 Cook Islands, 1d., 737,572; 2d., 569,108; 6d., 541,657.
 Niue, 1d., 730,429; 2d., 575,
 288; 6d., 547,000.

Our correspondent also informs us that the number of the 1937
 Health stamps sold was 897,035.
 Finland
 We are indebted to a Helsingfors correspondent for a curious piece of information regarding the Finnish Delaware commemorative. Listed this month. It appears that this stamp was intended to be issued at the same time as the Swedish Delaware set; but, at the last minute, somebody pointed out that the Americans spell "colonisation" with a "z" while the plates prepared for the stamps bore the word as spelt in modern English usage, with an "s". The original plates were thereupon scrapped, and fresh ones with the "error" "corrected" duly prepared and used for printing the stamps. The designer of the stamp was the Finnish artist, Aarno Karimo.

Northwest Territory Stamp
 First day seals of the new 3-cent
 Requincentennial of the Northwest Territory Commemorative stamp which was placed on sale July 15 at the Marietta, Ohio, post office, amounted to $10,215.48. This figure represents 340,516 stamps sold including 180,170 first day covers.
 Sales of this stamp at the Philatelic Agency on July 16, amounted to $9,299.46, or 309,962 stamps.

How to Keep Stamps
 Many letters and personal questions come to the writer as how to keep stamps. The writer finds that the best way is in Visi tray covers in one's album and extra stamps in black visi view folders.
 This keeps hands off.

Northwest Territory Design
 Anyone observing the stamp design of the latest Northwest Territory Commemorative stamp may wonder why that there should be so great a difference between the statue depicted there, and the actual statue.
 The reason is that the photograph submitted to the Post Office Department by the Northwest Territory Commission, shows the statue uncompleted. The figure on the left, facing the statue, shows a peculiar head gear on the stamp.
 This part of the statue had not been fully carved, also the figures were not completed below the knees.
 President Roosevelt unveiled the completed statue on July 8, 1938.

Human Sailboat

Here's a new variation of the lovely ladies which used to adorn the bow-spirits of wooden sailing vessels. Natalie Allison, of Miami, who is pretty enough to have modeled for one of those old-time figures, takes herself sailing—literally in Miami waters by means of a sail strapped to her body. It is rumored that when the tropical wind falls her, she blows herself home.

ben W. Barkley in Kentucky, Sen.
 Robert Bulkley in Ohio and Sen.
 Elmer Thomas in Oklahoma.

The unprecedented feature of Sen.
 Caraway's campaign is the apparent "100 per cent women's drive."
 In Mrs. Caraway's campaign headquarters, young women are serving in posts usually given to young men.

Girls Run Errands

In fact, press releases all are delivered by comely young women.
 Those attending to errands and serving as messengers for the most part, also are young women.

And on the other side, Rep. Mc-Clellan is matching the senior senator stride for stride in the quest for women votes. He has organized a network of women's clubs all over the state to work in his behalf.

In her opening speech, Sen. Caraway indirectly apologized for not making speeches on the floor of the senate, and asserted that "talk does not make nor change votes."
 Rep. McClellan continuously counters that many issues can be settled by men in their informal associations with one another off the floor.

In one campaign venture, Rep.
 McClellan put his 12-year-old son
 John Jr. on the "stump" for him, and the result apparently was successful.

Fee Seeks Women's Votes
 Rep. McClellan does his campaigning for women votes on the side. On the other hand, Mrs. Caraway's speeches, of which there have been considerably fewer than customary for a senate candidate, are aimed at soliciting men's votes.

Venable's campaign, which has been progressing since he announced late in 1937, includes a full round of speaking engagements. The war veteran is attacking both of his opponents broadside.

As the senate race continues to stimulate interest, political observers predict a record vote Aug. 9.
 The governor's race also is attracting its share of attention.
 Gov. Carl E. Bailey is opposed by R. A. Cook of Little Rock, former Pulaski county judge, whom he defeated in the 1936 primary.

DICTATORS FEAR FREEDOM

"One of the first things dictators and Communists demand is the right of free speech, and one of the first things to which an end is put when they get into power is freedom of speech and freedom of the press. There is no freedom of speech or of the press in Russia, Italy or Germany. Dictators are afraid of the truth."—Southwestern Oregon News, Marshfield, Ore.

$43,000,000,000 IN THE RED

One year from now, the Federal debt will be in excess of $43,000,000,000. If relief expenditures continue, which seems more than likely, it may go far beyond even that stratospheric figure.

In the light of that fact, is it any wonder that business is worried, that the investment is discouraged, and that unemployment is near the record level? Government, like an individual, can spend beyond its income just so long. Then comes bankruptcy.

If the next Congress wants to avert that end, it will give thorough and immediate attention to tax and debt problems. Until an honest start is made toward a balanced budget and regular debt reduction, we can't have good times in this country.

And we cannot expect to have any attention paid to tax and debt problems until we have men in Congress who can and will have enough backbone to think for themselves, men who have the interest of the people at heart and not the interests of the head of the party or the party itself.

Never before in the history of the nation was there a greater need for honest and conscientious lawmakers in the national Congress.

DEFENSE AGAINST FASCISM

The opinion is going the rounds that the democracies' best defense against the Fascist totalitarian states, is the latter's astounding financial weakness.

The democracies, of course, such as France, England and the United States, have gone to great lengths in monetary tinkering, taxing and spending. But they aren't in the same class as the Fascists. Germany, for example, absorbs about one-third of its national income in taxes, and still can't make both ends meet. Italy, faced with poor crops and an increasingly unfavorable balance of trade, is hard pressed for money. And Japan, as everyone knows, is spending beyond its means at an incredible rate, and is giving something like half of all its government revenues to the maintenance and expansion of its military machine.

First economic collapse, many think, will come in Germany. Germany long has been financing herself by an amazing technique. Any company working for the government—and all important companies in a totalitarian state do that most of the time—has been paid in so-called "work bills," which matured in a year or two. The company took these to the banks and discounted them for cash. When the banks got too many on hand for the government to buy back on the due date, the government refunded them. Later still, an "improvement" was devised whereby the government gave companies treasury bills which could not be discounted. All of these companies then got stuck with non-negotiable paper, and couldn't get cash to carry on their business. Recently they had to sell stock for this purpose, and the result was a crash in the government-dominated Germany stock market.

There hasn't been much audible complaint. It doesn't pay in Germany, where new concentration camps are being built as the existing ones have proven inadequate to hold Hitler's enemies. But German foreign credit is reaching the non-existent point, and conditions are getting worse. One columnist in describing Germany's impending collapse says, "the prevailing opinion in Washington is that it won't be long now."

TAXES, OUR NO. 1 PROBLEM

From Nation's Business

Just one hundred years ago a British cotton manufacturer published a book to warn his countrymen. He called it "England and America contrasted, or the Evils of Taxation."

"It is utterly impossible," he wrote, "that we can compete with America under this immense burden of taxation." Britain could not hope to keep step with "America, where every stimulus is given to the energies of industry," and where a workman could subsist as well on three hours labor a day as he could in England on 12 hours. ("Taxes are paid in the sweat of every man who labors.") With this tremendous advantage to the manufacturers and workmen of America, he predicted that the new country would become the richest and most prosperous in the world.

The Englishman's prophecy was fulfilled. America went on and until she surpassed the Motherland in every index of the abundant life. We produced more and consumed more and "laid up" more than our cousins, the John Bulls. The commercial capital of the world was moved from London to New York. Our dollar became the standard of value.

Taxes, when the Britisher wrote, were taking from 10 to 12 per cent of the gross national income of Great Britain, while here one-fourth that. At the close of the Great War Englishmen gave up 25 per cent of what they earned to the tax-gatherer. Ours grew from two per cent in 1850 to six per cent in 1900, to 12 per cent in 1914. Today it is 27 per cent, and if we were paying as we go, our expenses for Government—state, federal and local—would require nearly one-third of the income of all of us.

Great Britain's tax burden today is around 20 per cent. For the first time since our federal Government was set up, it is taking more from its citizens than the United Kingdom. There is much loose talk in comparing our tax burden with those of other countries. Mr. Harry Hopkins said cynically that "we don't know what it is to be taxed," but the record—and don't let any one tell you different—judged on any basis, per capita, cost of government, or income, proves the United States now has bigger and better taxes than "debt-ridden" England.

An American cotton manufacturer might write a book today warning his countrymen. For, while we are not certain of many things in this life, of this we are sure: When a nation expends the results of its labor in non-wealth producing enterprises through political agencies rather than in the development of new industries through the imagination and courage of its individual citizens, there can be

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

ATTEMPTING TO RIGHT A WRONG BY ANOTHER WRONG

What the Republicans and Democrats have both attempted to do in the last quarter of a century is to right one wrong by performing another wrong. They do not seem to realize that two wrongs never make a right.

When they notice one service or item that was benefited by a monopoly, both political parties attempted to correct this error by creating another monopoly, another special privilege.

Had the political parties looked things squarely in the face and corrected the special privilege that was doing injustice to others, we would not now be losing our liberty so rapidly nor have checked the initiative that was creating the highest standard of living the world ever knew.

When we attempt to eliminate injustice by creating another injustice, instead of benefiting, we do harm. To be specific, when certain groups were allowed to combine to make labor, or capital, or things scarce, so they could be traded at a fictitious price for other articles, it only made things worse to permit other groups to combine to make things scarce.

This process has gone on so long that we now recognize the great injustice in permitting city groups to combine to keep things scarce so that now we by law attempt to compel the farmers to combine to keep things scarce. The result is that nearly everyone who is attempting to make his own living independently of the government, is suffering from this plan of attempting to correct a wrong by a second wrong. Two wrongs never made a right.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS—THE BILL OF RIGHTS

As we see the paralyzing laws, which the crowd has demanded passed by our legislators and are taking liberty from the people and retarding man's progress, one sees the wisdom of Moses in giving the people the Ten Commandments. It seems that these Commandments were what we now call a Bill of Rights of the individual, or a Constitution.

And it becomes more and more evident, as we see the unsound laws we are adopting, that there must be a Bill of Rights, or Commandments, established by some wise leadership to protect the people from the follies of their shortsightedness. In other words, there must be "a No-Man's Land," as far as law making is concerned.

And that "No-Man's Land," or Ten Commandments, or Bill of Rights, or Constitution, is that the Universal Rule is the Golden Rule—that there should be no discriminatory laws or legislation against any class.

The columns of this paper are open to point out inconsistencies.

NOT VERY ENCOURAGING

It is hard to comprehend why the prices of stocks have advanced as they have done during the past month. The Wall Street Journal says:

"Aggregate earnings of the first 142 industrial companies reporting for quarter ended June 30, 1938, show a combined net income of $48,534,331 compared with $186,365,184 in the June quarter of 1937, a decrease of $137,830,853, or 73.9 per cent, and with net income of $51,671,015 in quarter ended March 31, 1938, a decrease of $3,136,684, or 6.1 per cent."

With the second quarter showing a decrease in earnings of 6 per cent, it is hard to explain how there could be such optimism as to cause the prices of stocks to increase as they have.

no progress. Political spending makes for temporary employment of men; the other for continuous and increased employment of men.

Eighteen of the new industries developed here in the 50 years ending in 1930 employ today 9,000,000 men and women, nearly one-fourth of the total employed. The deflection of the people's savings from industrial ventures to political spending since 1930 has not added a single man or woman to a wealth-producing pay roll. During this period there have been a million men and women, exclusive of those on relief, added to political pay rolls. But this employment is overhead, not income producing.

It is the fashion today to speak slighly of the founders of this government. It may be that our horse-and-buggy leaders were dumb, that they were just ordinary men. If that be so, they build better than they knew. For they gave us little government and little government expense, leaving with the people a large percentage of earnings which voluntarily adventured into a thousand fields, under the stimulation of enterprisers, who in turn were "livened every stimulus."

Little government expense meant little government meddling by bureaucrats.

Our American manufacturer-author might paraphrase his British cousin of 100 years ago: America cannot hope to regain its industrial stride under the present immense burden of taxation.

PARADOX

From the Wall Street Journal

In one of the extraordinarily interesting series of articles on the state of Europe now appearing in The Wall Street Journal, written by its Paris and London correspondents in collaboration, occurs this significant observation regarding the present Italian economy:

According to very rough estimates, the total expenditures of the central and local governments this year amount to 50% of the national income, against 33% before the world crisis.

This article further discusses the long chain of governmental measures by which the Italians have more or less successfully endeavored to adjust conditions and internal needs. The point which the sentence quoted brings forcibly to mind is the extent to which a government undertaking to manage a national economy for the preservation of private property as an institution involves itself in a process which, in essence, turns out to be expropriation of private enterprise and ownership.

Fort Worth Evening Star-Telegram: "Every person knows the difficulty of achieving exact justice in the courts where both sides to a controversy have equal rights and recourse to the same remedies. Administrative bodies exercising judicial functions, like the National Labor Relations Board and its examiners, deny employers their full legal rights, while a nullification of fundamental principles."

JOHNSON SAYS

BETHANY BEACH, Del.—The 1938 Coast Artillery Delaware National Guard is at this beach engaged in target practice. It is an anti-aircraft regiment and the practice is with machine guns and three-inch rifles. Its equipment is not the most modern and the airplanes do not fly at wartime heights, speeds or directions, but these part-time soldiers hit the rapidly scooting sleeves high up in the air with astonishing accuracy.

In case of war they would have to be re-equipped and given advanced training, but one of the most encouraging aspects of our defense is the National Guard. Naturally, it could not be expected to be as effective as regular troops, but I think it is as effective as any European second line troop and it is so much better now than before the war that there just isn't any comparison.

In pure-war days it was supposed to be a military axiom that "it takes three years to make a private soldier." The war rubbed that error. Notwithstanding the facts that weapons are far more technical and training more complex, modern methods have made it possible to produce a top-hole enlisted man with six months intensive training. Man for man there were no better soldiers than ours of the Western Front and some of them hadn't had six months drill.

These National Guardsmen, with only an hour or two a week, know their stuff, and what is more they look like soldiers. That is an indefinable quality, but an old soldier can spot it a block away. It isn't because of enlisted men that an army can't be improvised. It is because of officers and non-commissioned officers—especially the former. A military education is indispensable for officers—not only to the ends of victory but also for the health and mental and moral welfare of the men.

Staff functions, including supply, are absolutely vital to the successful command and movement of the massed armies of modern war, just as knowledge of diet and sanitation as well as arms and tactics are vital to a commander of a company, a battalion or a regiment.

It is in this department that our great weakness lies. We have among the best officers in the world—but pitifully too few.

Many devoted National Guard officers give their spare time to the study of the profession and some could hold their own in any company. But the training of others is distinctly spotty and that of the large corps of reserve officers is generally worse.

We don't need a big army but we need a good one that can instantly be mobilized and ready "to the last shoe-latch" to fight at its maximum effectiveness from the first day. Through no fault of our War Department, we haven't got that.

There are not enough officers in reserve proficiently trained. We are woefully lacking in reserve munitions and equipment. There is insufficient provision to convert peace-time production into factories to war-time uses. While some progress is being made and the problem is recognized, this lack isn't being remedied fast enough. It would cost relatively little to fix this.

Fellow Citizens:

(Continued From a Recent Issue) Then why favor the California Pension plan? It is purely experimental. If it would accomplish the claims for it, by the promoters, it would be the greatest legislative document ever promulgated by the hand of man. The copyright could be sold to any of the leading nations of the world for not less than a million dollars.

The promoters would not have to plead over radio six times a week for the old folks "just to fold three dimes in a little piece of paper and mail to them." I. It had any merit at all the promoters would merit with a group of bankers, then the chamber of commerce and the teachers of the town, and have a vote. They could ask for liberal donations from these groups. They would not have to solicit "three dimes in a little piece of paper" any longer. If they convinced these voters of the merits of the plan the collections would be large. They could judge of their success by the amount of the collections. All expensive radio time and useless use of valuable space in newspapers could be cut out, for we "vox pops" would be delighted to join the promoters in the discussions before the above named groups. Of course, time would be lost discussing the plan before the old folks who are mailing the "three dimes each month" for promoters. We would join in no such discussion for these old folks will not be convinced that they are wasting pension dimes until they get the returns from the November election.

In 1937 about 80 pension plans were promoted in California at a cost to the aged people, of around six million dollars. A plan was enacted into law. Compare this result with the accomplishments and cost of the 75th congress. The salary of 531 congressmen is $690,000 less than was paid to the pension promoters by old folks in 1937. But the 75th congress introduced 17,092 bills and enacted 1700 into law, while pension promoters who have collected some 15 or 20 million dollars have never placed a law upon the statute books. This is positive proof that money will not place laws upon the statute books, unless the measures are favored by a majority of the people. This is as it should be.

If we "vox pops" were promoting the California Pension plan, we would use $5000 per month of the more than $35,000 now donated to the promoters, and print a copy of the plan in the newspapers so that all the folks could read it. These promoters' explanations are more difficult to understand than the pension plan. We would permit the old folks to keep the $30,000 per month, not used, and buy some new clothes and better food. We would accomplish as much in 30 days as the promoters have in 12 months. We would not copyright the pension plan, because it would be useless if we printed copies in newspapers. But we would allow the taxpayers to keep the 50 or 75 thousand dollars they will pay for copies of pension plan and use it to take the kiddies to the picture shows occasionally, and to buy them an ice cream cone and some popcorn. That is the way we "cookeyed" "vox pops" would promote the California Pension plan if we approved all of its provisions. But since I've read a copy carefully, I am sure the "vox pops" are going to find fault with the plan. I am going to enumerate briefly in a coming issue of The Register, about a dozen. I shall call the pension plan "the plan."

Fellow Citizens: When W. C. Baker becomes familiar with the entire Townsend Plan he will feel chagrined for having written as he did in the Clearing House on Old Age Pension Plans. He will then settle himself down in the class with those who "are not overcharged with logic and are very misleading in the attempts to interpret the

The General Welfare Act, HR 4199, now in the ways and means committee of congress is NOT "the welfare plan" of the Townsend Plan, and Townsend organizations have nothing to do with the bill advocated by the so-called "welfare people" who have eliminated every vital feature of the Townsend Plan, rendering it worthless as a recovery measure and fooling foolish people into believing they will have something as good as the Townsend Plan. The "welfare" makeshift is not a pay-as-you-go proposition and it will be a burden on taxpayers no better than now borne. It will have little effect on money circulation and will not relieve the unemployment situation.

It will not lessen crime, poor houses, suicides nor benefit business. In fact it is practically the opposite of the Townsend Plan. No honest person with full knowledge of both plans would recommend anyone to "concentrate on HR 4199 with the amendments" and would realize that to do so would defeat "the aspirations for a comprehensive program for pensions."

WHOSE BONDS IN THE WRINGER?

BY ELIOT JONES

Professor of Transportation and Public Utilities Stanford University

Some people think that the solution of the railroad problem is to put the railroads through the wringer, that is, cancel a large part of their bonded indebtedness, and start afresh. Presumably such drastic treatment of the stockholders, for their claim to dividends is subordinate to the claim of the bondholders to interest.

The matter is not so simple, however, as it sounds; for the repercussions of a program of debt cancellation would be felt far and wide, and many humanitarian institutions and worthy individuals would be injuriously affected.

Who owns the railroad bonds, which are so lightly regarded as cancelled? Mostly insurance companies, (life, fire, health, accident, etc.), banks (savings and commercial), hospitals, colleges, and welfare institutions of one sort or another (whether charitable, benevolent, religious, or scientific). These creditors are our most conservative investors—classes whose welfare is of such great social importance that we protect many of them by special laws which restrict the investment of trust funds to what are regarded as conservative and safe investments. Institutions of these types do not strive to secure large speculative profits, but instead merely a small dependable return, so that they can meet their obligations, and thus prove faithful to the trust imposed upon them.

Suppose high grade bonds, whether railroad or other, are cancelled, or the rate of interest paid on them is drastically reduced. Life insurance companies would be unable to meet death claims, fire insurance companies would be unable to meet fire claims, thrifty individuals would lose their savings, hospitals would have to curtail their humanitarian services, and all sorts of welfare institutions would have to discontinue those who had reason to appoint those who had reason to these institutions to function as intended would cause untold grief and disaster, and it would doubtless become necessary for the government to step in, and repair as much of the damage as it could.

It is clear, therefore, that those who look upon debt cancellation as an easy way out do not have a clear picture of the complicated structure of modern economic society. If the railroads are unable to meet their promises to pay, the institutions that had counted on receiving interest on their railroad bonds will be unable to make good on their promises, and their failure to meet their obligations will, with widespread consequence almost inevitable, be traced through to the holders of the bonds and stocks of a number of railroads fall in this category. In such instances the bondholders and stockholders must take their medicine, and the harmful repercussions above described must be borne, somehow or other. But it should be recognized that there will be harmful repercussions; and cancellation should therefore be avoided, if possible.

News Behind The News

World Copyright 1938 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The Roosevelt coat tails seem to be wearing out too slick. The boys with bonafide tickets have been sliding off lately so fast that the salaried here are beginning to wonder. They are talking about putting handkerchiefs on it, or else giving up the whole frock idea and letting Mr. Roosevelt wear a business suit.

What caused them to reconsider again was the way people rushed so eagerly to the polls to sock the Corcoran-Ickes-Hopkins purge candidate within sight of the White House, across the river in the eighth congressional district. There they had dusted off a Virginia college professor, son of a former ambassador, and presented him in opposition to a congressman who had opposed the Supreme Court reform and the Reorganization bill. They had his picture taken with Farley. Inter- Secretary Ickes patted him publicly on the back, or at least took a slap at his opponent, the sitting congressman. He announced he was a "liberal" and put up signs saying: "A vote for me is a vote for Roosevelt." The district is heavily sprinkled with government employees who work in Washington; also railroad labor workers.

On an important precinct, where the government employees and railroad men are; got only 10 votes in his home town; was defeated 3 to 1.

The explanation publicly offered was the customary one, that it was a great victory for conservatism. A great defeat for liberalism, a blow to Roosevelt.

These conclusions appeared rather more obvious than real. Not a single issue was discussed in the campaign. There was no debate on public problems that the congressman might face in the next two years—no pledge to vote for or against war, no consideration given the NLRB or proposals to make it really work for labor generally, nothing about lifting the embargo on Spain which is always a leading subject in the liberal magazines.

The purge candidate did not even claim he was a better-qualified man to represent the district. All he claimed was that Roosevelt was the better man, and that he himself was a better man to represent Roosevelt.

His opponent made only one speech. The congressman-to-be-purged said he was for Roosevelt when Roosevelt was right and against him when he was wrong. He said he would continue to represent the district, NOT the President.

The issue as he saw it was whether congress should be notified as a national legislature by election of all Roosevelt yes men, or whether congress should be a "but-" branch of government as the constitutional system of checks and balances prescribes.

He thought this was liberalism. One other factor was noticeable but not publicized. The purge candidate was born in the district, but had not lived there much lately, and did not have an unbroken voting record there. A large number of residents did not consider him truly a man of the district.
